MILITANT LEADER IS BARRED FROM U. S.

MRS. EMMELINE PANKHURST IS HELD PRISONER AT ELLIS ISLAND.

IS AWAITING APPEAL

IS CHARGED WITH COMMITTING ACTS OF MORAL TURPITUDE.

BOND FOR GUARANTY REFUSED

$10,000 to Assure Good Behavior Rejected—Ordered Back to France.

New York, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, foremost of English militant suffragettes, who reached America today on the liner Province to appeal for the sympathy and support of the American people in the "revolution" for which she says she is fighting, is a prisoner tonight at Ellis Island under order of deportation awaiting the issue of an appeal which is expected to be decided tomorrow at Washington.

With Miss Reta Childs Door, another of the arriving English militants who was "voluntarily detained" that she might be with her leader, Mrs. Pankhurst occupied the commissioners' suite of two rooms in the administration building. While presenting an appearance of bareness, the rooms were comfortably furnished and are the best in the building. They are the ones in which Cipriano Castro, former Venezuela dictator, was detained while his case was pending. From the broad windows overlooking the harbor, Mrs. Pankhurst can see the Statue of Liberty.

Mrs. Pankhurst was detained by an immigration inspector on her arrival here and was at once taken before a special board of inquiry which, after examining her, decided because she had been convicted abroad for acts involving moral turpitude, she was an undesirable alien. The board therefore ordered her exclusion. An appeal immediately was entered and immigration Commissioner Caminetti is to hear argument on her case tomorrow in Washington. Mrs. Pankhurst's representatives here expressed confidence that whatever might be done about the appeal, it would be done in time so that she might fill her speaking engagements here. Mrs. Pankhurst tonight had little more to say than that she would be freed in time to speak at meetings and carry her message to the people of this country. She was on the point of starting a "hunger strike" when she heard that the deportation order was issued. But upon learning that speedy hearing on the appeal would be held she ate breakfast and swallowed with evident relish a chicken sandwich and a pot of tea which she had requested.

"I am confident that whatever happens it will be good for the cause in which I am interested," she said. "I have great faith in the American people's sense of justice and fair play and I know they want to give me a chance to defend the movement which has been so misrepresented. There is no doubt that my detention is unjust."

Three things in the examination of Mrs. Pankhurst seemed particularly to arouse her indignation. One was that she was accused of "moral turpitude," another that the proceedings were in secret, and the third that her "political opponents" in England had in her belief, furnished much of the material used by the special board in questions put to her. Her examinations were courteous, "more or less," she admitted.

Objects to "Moral Turpitude" Charge. "The climax came," she declared, "when they said I was guilty of moral turpitude. When I said 'Your ancestors were guilty of moral turpitude when they threw the tea in Boston harbor,' it reminded them that Charles Stewart Parnell, Michael Davitt and John Redmond, Irish political leaders, were also guilty of moral turpitude."

To Curtail the Interstate Campaign Contributions

Washington, Oct. 18.—The first direct result of the congressional investigation of campaign expenditures came today when the senate passed Senator Clapp's bill prohibiting the sending of campaign funds from one state to another.

If the house approves the measure it will put a rigid limitation, not only upon the activities of General Plunk, but also upon work of such organizations as the National Association of Manufacturers, the American Federation of Labor and the National Association for Women's Suffrage.

The bill prohibits the carrying or sending of funds from one state to another to be used in the election of president, vice president, presidential electors or congressmen. The senate passed the bill today without debate. In previous discussions it was made clear that its purpose was to prevent financing of campaigns in a secret

DON'T TRY TO IMPEDE TWO BANKERS ARE SENTENCED

Hendrey and McDonald Got Three Years Each and Fine for Attempt to Defraud.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18.—E. L. Hendrey of Lenoire, Ark.; J. M. McDonald of La Kemp, Ok., convicted of conspiring to use the mails in an attempt to defraud, today in federal court each were sentenced to serve three years in the federal prison at Atlanta and to pay fine of $1,000. Notice of an appeal to the United States Court of Appeals was given. Hendrey's bond was fixed at $5,000 and McDonald's at $7,000. Both were furnished.

Hendrey was a director and McDonald president of the American Trust company, a Memphis institution which closed its doors about a year ago. Its capital was $500,000, $200,000 of which the prosecution alleged had been issued to promoters, but that none of the money had been paid in.

Democratic leaders expressed confidence today that the senate committee would be able to draw an agreement upon the measure as would insure its unanimous support by both republicans and democrats. This assurance was based on the knowledge that no effort is to be made to draw party lines on the bill; that republicans are to be fully consulted in amending and redrafting the measure.

The opening of direct negotiations with republican senators, it is understood, was decided on by the president because of suggestions from outside sources that they were endeavoring to delay action in committee. While no effort has been made to fix a date for the reporting of the bill, it is understood that the president has been assured that progress in the committee will be as rapid as possible.

Efforts to bring about a recess of congress appear to have abated somewhat and house leaders apparently have given up hope of getting away from Washington for any stated period. While the president would consent to a definite recess of congress, if the senate committee would agree to a date for completing the currency bill, members of the senate admitted today there was little chance for such a compact being made.

It is expected the committee will spend at least three weeks after October 25 in discussion and amendment of the bill.

An amendment to allow the proposed federal reserve banks to issue all travelers' checks such as are now issued by private banks, was suggested today by John Overmire of Indianapolis in a petition presented by Senator Kern.

Colquitt to Return. Austin, Tex., Oct. 18.—Governor Colquitt and Acting Governor Mayes will cross the Texas-Louisiana state line within a few hours of each other tomorrow. With the entry of Colquitt into the state the powers of governor are relieved from Mayes.

Colquitt is returning from a trip to Panama and Cuba, while Mayes is entering Louisiana for a lecture tour through that state and Mississippi. Governor Colquitt will arrive in Austin on Monday.

Bankruptcy at Otto. Marlin, Tex., Oct. 18.—Thomas Henry Turner, doing a general mercantile business at Otto, made a voluntary assignment on Friday of this week. His liabilities are estimated at $12,000, with assets at $15,000. E. E. Witt was named as receiver.

Doughty Returns from Taylor. Austin, Tex., Oct. 18.—W. F. Doughty, state superintendent of education, returned today from Taylor, where he attended the Smith County fair.

The Weather

NOW, I AM CRAZY, I'M ONLY PRACTISING MY SOCIETY MANNER!

Probable unsettled weather for today was indicated by meteorological conditions yesterday, according to Dr. I. Block, local volunteer observer. Waco was in a low barometric area last night and a higher area was pressing in from the northwest, which should send the mercury lower by tomorrow or Tuesday. Freezing weather was reported all over the northwestern country yesterday, the lowest being at North Platte, Neb., where thermometers registered 24. At several points in the northwest the same temperature was registered.

Local Temperatures. State of thermometer and barometer yesterday, as recorded by Dr. Block: Maximum 55, minimum 53, barometer 30.13, humidity 85. The total wind passage for the twenty-four hours ended at 9 o'clock last night was 12 miles, the highest velocity being nine miles, between 9 and 10 p. m. Friday.

Washington Forecast. Washington, Oct. 18.—Forecast: Waco and vicinity—Cloudy Sunday and Monday; moderate north and northeast winds.

West Texas—Cloudy Sunday; probably rain and colder in the Panhandle; Monday, unsettled.

GIVE SULZER A LOVING CUP

DEMONSTRATION IN FAVOR OF DEPOSED NEW YORK EXECUTIVE.

TALKS OF THE BOSSES

SAYS WOULD BE YET IN OFFICE HAD HE OBEYED.

ROOSEVELT LETTER GIVEN OUT

Reply From the Colonel to Communication by Sulzer, Counsel Would Not Allow Made Public.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—There was red fire, oratory and music by a brass band at the executive mansion tonight when several hundred admirers of William Sulzer called to present him with a loving cup.

Rain fell while the marchers were en route to the mansion. Sulzer started to shake hands with all his callers, but he never completed the task. They crowded around him and refused to move. Someone said a few words of consolation to him only to be interrupted by Mrs. Sulzer.

"The action of the court is the least of our troubles," she said.

The crowd began to cheer. "Well, have you back here next year, Bill," one man yelled.

Another enthusiast yelled: "Hurrah for the next president of the United States!" whereupon there was more cheering. Cheering for Mrs. Sulzer followed.

Chester C. Platt, Sulzer's secretary, read speech, assuring Sulzer that he had been removed because he would not obey the bosses. Mention of the name of Charles F. Murphy brought hisses.

Lynch him," shouted one man at the mention of the name of an assemblyman.

The cup presented to Sulzer was inscribed, "To William Sulzer, A Victim of Corrupt Bossism, October 1, 1913." Mrs. Sulzer was presented with a bouquet. Sulzer in a speech reiterated his assertion that his removal was due to his displacing Tammany Hall.

Sulzer's Address. "Had I obeyed the boss instead of my oath of office, I would still be governing the kind of government we have today," he said.

"I have been ordered to leave the capital," he said. "My condemnation by the boss is intended to serve as a warning and a precedent to all who would follow me or what will happen to them if they don't obey orders, but I believe my fate will have a good effect in the end and do more than any other single thing I could do to forever destroy the terrors of corrupt bossism in the state of New York."

A letter which Colonel Roosevelt wrote Sulzer October 3, last, was given out by Platt. It was in response to one from Sulzer telling Roosevelt that on advice of counsel Sulzer could not permit a letter he wrote the former president regarding the impeachment case to be made public. The letter follows:

"I thank you for your letter and I am sorry that I have to leave before your defense is made public. I wish it had been possible for you to write me the letter of which you wrote, giving me the definite facts as to efforts by Mr. Murphy and his associates to bend you to their interests against the use of honesty and decency in popular government and their promise of immunity to you from impeachment if you would cease your attacks on the men who have been guilty of misconduct in connection with public office and if you would cease demand for direct primaries. Such a letter, giving me in detail the facts would, of course, have enabled me to speak much more strongly than I have spoken."

Want Sulzer to Lecture. Platt also gave out copies of several telegrams Sulzer had received offering him lecture dates. A Kansas City man bid $10,000 for one lecture; a New Yorker $20,000 for ten lectures; another New Yorker $50,000 for fifty and a Chicago promoter topped the list with $100,000 for a season. As yet the former governor has closed no contracts for public addresses.

This was the last night Sulzer occupied the executive mansion. He will leave tomorrow for Cooperstown, at which place he will spend three or four days in a summer home owned by a friend. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Sulzer. From Cooperstown Sulzer will go to the mountains for a few days, probably, and then return to New York.

Accuse Indian Agent. Denver, Colo., Oct. 18.—Resolutions accusing Arthur E. McFarlane, agent of the Blackfoot Indian reservation in Montana, of misconduct and mismanagement were introduced at today's session of the annual convention of the Society of American Indians here.

The resolutions demand an investigation by the commissioner of Indian affairs.

Wrangle Over Meeting Place. Orange, Tex., Oct. 18.—After wrangling for two hours over the meeting place with New Orleans, Houston and Lake Charles, all in the field, the Interstate Waterways league decided to leave the selection of the next convention city to the executive committee.

Soldiers Must Wear Coats. San Antonio, Oct. 18.—A ban has been placed on the wearing in public of olive drab shirts by army officers or enlisted men unless covered by the army blouse or coat. An order to this effect has been issued at Fort Sam Houston.

The olive drab shirt will hereafter be worn exclusively during field service.

HAVE LITTLE HOPE OF HUERTA'S ELIMINATION

SAYS WILL NOT RESIGN

HUERTA DECLARES THAT HE WILL QUIT ONLY FOR THE GRAVE.

Claims Has Money for Requirements. Refuses, However, to Tell the Source.

Mexico City, Oct. 18.—Provisional President Huerta has not resigned nor has he fled from the capital. When seen at the national palace at 5 o'clock this afternoon he said he had no intention of doing either.

"When I resign," said General Huerta, "it will be to seek a resting place six feet in the soil. When I flee the capital it will be to shoulder a rifle and take my place in the ranks to fight the rebels."

This was President Huerta's answer to questions as to whether there was any foundation for reports which have been freely circulated in the capital and have found their way to the United States. General Huerta looked the picture of health and energy.

"So it is reported that I have fled," the president said. "You can see for yourself that I am here at my post. To say that I have resigned or intend to resign is an absolute falsehood. I have no intention of resigning."

"Should the elections be held as I have promised, I shall step aside. Until that time you will find me here complying with my promise to the nation, which are to re-establish peace, within the law if possible, but to re-establish peace."

"Another thing," said the president. "I have money for my requirements. Don't you think I haven't? Where did I get it? My secret," he responded, "but I have it."

On the question of pacification he declared that at the end of the month the government would have retaken Torreón and made headway towards the pacification of the state of Durango. "I have 8,000 men at Hipolito," said the president, "moving on Torreón and 9,000 more proceeding north from Zacatecas."

In reply to a suggestion that further rumors were afloat that troops were proceeding to Torreón had been blown up, he exclaimed: "More lies; nothing of the kind has occurred."

"It has been said that all Americans have been ordered to leave the capital," the interviewer mentioned.

In response General Huerta made a gesture of disgust. "What nonsense," he replied, "as I have repeatedly said since I came to the presidency foreigners from Hottentots to the most enlightened have received and will continue to receive every guarantee of protection."

"In the opinion of General Huerta the rumors of the expulsion of foreigners with enemies of the administration at the capital and elsewhere for the effect they would have with the revolutionists."

General Huerta is working fifteen to eighteen hours daily, sleeping at odd times when fatigue overtakes him. He adopts various ruses to escape the scores striving to reach him with personal affairs. He slips out of unused entrances and takes roundabout routes to hide his whereabouts.

Col. Carlos Aguilera, his son-in-law, who is with him almost continuously, sought him today in half a dozen haunts before locating him in the palace.

The rumors of President Huerta's resignation and flight caused a sensation in the capital. Many believed them, finding circumstances to bolster up the story such as departure of several Vidaurrassas, War Minister Blanquet's private secretary for Vera Cruz, and difficulty in finding any cabinet ministers. Few remembered having seen General Huerta for a day or two.

No Hope of Any Mine Victims Being Rescued

Rockdale, Tex., Oct. 18.—The situation at the Vogel mine is unchanged tonight. C. N. Avery, chairman of the State Mining board, came this morning, acting for State Mine Inspector Broman, and confirmed the action of Mayor Meyer in his plan of rescue work. All efforts have been abandoned except to dig straight down to the entombed men. It is thought this will be accomplished by Sunday afternoon. There is very little probability of finding any of the men alive.

Following is a corrected complete list of those missing: Estancia Rodriguez, Dorado Flores, Moses Hernandez, Andres Cruz, Reges Sanchez, George Lopez, married; F. Miralles, married; Joseangel Miralles.

It is known that George Lopez was drowned near the foot of the main shaft. He was running to escape the wall of water when he stumbled, fell and was drowned.

Labor Conditions Milder. Austin, Oct. 18.—C. N. Avery, chairman of the state mining board, and George S. Matthews, sheriff of Travis county, returned tonight from Rockdale, where they had gone in an effort to aid the rescue of the eight men who have been caught in the Vogel and Lawrence mine cave-in.

Mr. Avery says that upon arrival at Rockdale he found that labor troubles were being experienced. In spite of the fact that the men confined in the mine were Mexicans, other Mexicans were refusing to labor because a definite arrangement as to compensation had not been reached. After he had gotten this matter straightened out, he found that only three small inch and a half pumps were working where there were millions of gallons of water to be pumped out. He had a survey of the mine made and at once started a new shaft down in an effort to save the men. The cave-in shaft is ninety feet below the surface. Those connected with the mine by use of engineering instruments found a location where the imprisoned miners are supposed to be on dry ground.

The picture machine took the first exposure in Waco when the crowd started to Hillsboro, the next was made at Hillsboro showing the crowd on the public square, the parade, the speakers delivering their addresses, including Mayor J. H. Mackey of Waco, and the presentation of the silver cup to President Strickland.

Scenes of Animation. The picture will also show the activity of the bands, including Alexander's band of Waco, and the newspaper men on the speakers' stand reporting the speeches. As a finale to the picture there will be a view of the cars in Waco.

BOOSTER SPIRIT IS INSPIRING

Excursion Planned Promises to Break Record—Will Travel in Coaches to Dallas.

Plans were made for the biggest excursion ever pulled out of Waco to Dallas at a meeting held in the Young Men's Business League club rooms by the committee which was appointed at the general meeting to handle the trip. It is proposed to make the trip over the International and Great Northern railway, going to Fort Worth and then to Dallas over the Texas and Pacific. This would traverse territory that has never been covered by any of the excursions and gives the Waco men an opportunity to boost the Cotton Palace at Fort Worth as well as at Dallas. From an advertising standpoint it is one of the best that could possibly have been proposed. The committee is confident that because this is a longer trip will not keep any one away longer to make the trip from Fort Worth to Dallas.

Will Travel in Coaches. The committee, composed of C. C. Beckley, Harry Rohrer, C. H. Cox, J. Gilmer, and the Young Men's Business League transportation committee, of which W. E. Edgar is chairman, has made arrangements for a most unique costume which will be worn by the excursionists. The costume proposed was shown by Mr. Beckley at the last general meeting and was thought a good one.

The rate for the trip will be $4.50. This will pay the cost of the costume and other small necessities for the comfort of the excursionists.

Tickets on Sale One Hour. Heretofore the committee has had to dispose of the tickets, necessitating a lot of time. The Dallas excursion committee has a splendid idea in view which they will inaugurate to sell the tickets for this event. The tickets under the proposed plan will be sold in one hour. One hundred and two of the best boosters of the Young Men's Business League have been selected by the committee to wage the campaign. These men have been divided into thirty-four teams.

Sale Begins at 3 o'clock. The campaign will start at 3 p. m. Monday and last until 3 p. m. And every member of the committee is urged to be at the Young Men's league club rooms at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow. Following is a list of the teams:

Cotulla, Tex., Oct. 18.—The jury in the case of Jesus Gonzales, indicted with thirteen other alleged smugglers for killing Candelario Ortiz, deputy sheriff of Dimmitt county, was completed at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.

The first venire of 140 men was exhausted at 11 o'clock this morning and only ten of the jurors had been sworn in. Judge Mullaly ordered the sheriff to summon another twenty-five talesmen and for a while it looked as if these would be exhausted before the other two jurors were secured.

No attempt to introduce evidence was made today on account of the lateness of the hour. Court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday morning. Many of the witnesses went back to their homes in Dimmitt county to spend Sunday.

Rumors in Trial of Jew Dispelled

Kiev, Russia, Oct. 18.—The myth concerning the presence of two Jews in the neighborhood of the time the boy Andrew Yushinsky was murdered, was dispelled today at the trial of Mendel Belits, charged with the murder, by the testimony of the Jews in question, Landan and Ettlinger, who accounted for all their movements.

It had been alleged that these two men were in some way implicated in the crime. Another sinister rumor that some of Yushinsky's blood had been used in connection with the laying of the foundation stone of the old age home, was shown to be groundless by the testimony of Mark Zaitoff, one of the proprietors of the brick works, who produced irrefutable proof that the ceremony occurred several days before the murder.

CAR SHORTAGE IS VERY LIKELY

Interstate Commerce Commission Appeals to Railroads and Shippers to Facilitate Movement.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Imminence of a serious car shortage on American railroads induced the Interstate Commerce commission to issue today a vigorous appeal, directed to both railroads and shippers to give "close attention to methods of loading, unloading, moving and promptly returning to use the cars now available."

Complaints received from all parts of the country indicate the danger of a car shortage. The commission gives the present supply of cars as sufficient for all purposes, that it will provide adequate for the movement of all traffic offered only in the event of its being employed fully and promptly.

TEACHERS SEE MODEL CLASS

MISS HALIBURTON EXPLAINS AND EXEMPLIFIES ADVANCED METHODS.

FIRST OF INSTRUCTIVE SERIES

Big Gains in Enrollments Shown by Figures for the First Month of the Term.

In order that all of the public school teachers of the first three grades may get the benefits of the demonstrations in teaching given by Miss Haliburton at the Sanger Avenue school, Supt. J. C. Lattimore called off the general meeting of teachers scheduled for yesterday.

Miss Haliburton conducted her "model class" at Sanger Avenue school and despite the disagreeable weather conditions there were thirty in the class of first grade children. The teachers watched with interest the methods employed by Miss Haliburton from the opening to the close of the class and were enthusiastic in their praise.

The model class recitations will be continued for some weeks, the next to be held at Brook Avenue school next Wednesday. The recitations will be given at the different schools at the same time, for the first three grades after school hours.

Big Gains This Year. The enrollment to date is as follows: White, 487; colored, 516; total, 1003. At the corresponding time last season the enrollment was: white, 436; colored, 426; total, 862. The gain this year is: White, 151; colored, 90; total gain for both races, 241.

Several of the schools show large gains, but the largest increase in any one school is in the high school, where the gain has been 110. The increase in the teaching corps is 29 and the number of new rooms built this summer, including those at the North Waco building, not yet completed, is 27. Steam heating plants have been installed in five of the buildings.

Principal Improvements. Among the forward steps taken by the school board this year, there may be mentioned as deserving special commendation: The employment of an expert primary supervisor to have special supervision of the work of the first three grades; the establishment of four ungraded rooms, where more individual attention may be given to individual pupils, who, for any reason, either are considerably ahead or behind the regular work of the grades in which they may be placed; and the employment of experienced teachers to do substitute work or render assistance wherever it may be needed.

Night School Tomorrow. The night school will start tomorrow. This school is for the especial benefit of boys and young men who are unable to attend the day sessions of the schools. Classes in arithmetic, spelling, writing and in the use of the English language will be formed. There will be a class for the benefit of foreign-born men and boys who have learned to write and speak only a very little of the English language. The hours of the night school will be from 7:30 to 9:30. It is hoped that all who expect to attend the night school will start Monday so as to get the full benefit of all the work done during the term, which probably will continue six months, if the attendance justifies.

DALLAS FAIR OPENS

Passe's Fine Arts Exhibit and Boys' Texas Must Lay Stress on Developing Great Men.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 18.—The State fair of Texas swung open its gates for its twenty-eighth annual exposition here this morning. The opening address was submitted to the collection by Acting Governor Will H. Mayes, following a civic parade in which he rode with his official staff and members of the supreme court of Texas. There were brief addresses by Mayor W. M. Holt, Dallas and President J. J. Eckford and the afternoon event was formally on. The first day of the fair was a football game between Fort Worth and the Trinity university of Waco.

In his address, Acting Governor Mayes said: "I would stress the fact that, after all, the real purpose of a great exposition is to stimulate the happiness and prosperity of the people and I would emphasize the suggestion that an earnest effort be made to bring about such conditions in Texas that every family may own a home by the side of a good road, close to a good school."

"While much thought has been given to the more material needs of men, the esthetic and the mental have not been neglected. The fine arts exhibits here have been of a kind to inspire love for the beautiful; while the educational exhibits have stimulated our young men and young women to attain the highest intellectual pursuits. This fair has realized that the happiness, the prosperity and the welfare of a people depend upon their intellectual development. The slogan that 'Texas needs great men' does not imply that Texas has no great men, but that the state needs to turn its attention to the development of more great men."

Wants Home for All. "No stream can rise above its source. No people can be greater than their opportunities and environments permit. While in no wise depreciating the efforts to amuse and entertain the people, and while not minimizing the plans to develop our agricultural, our manufacturing, our commercial and financial interests, I would stress the fact that after all, the real purpose of a great exposition is to stimulate the happiness and prosperity of the people, and I would emphasize the suggestion that an earnest effort be made to bring about such conditions in Texas that every family may own a home, by the side of a good road, close to a good school. To this end I feel that this fair is striving, and for this result the people of all classes are earnestly hoping."

"And now, congratulating you, Mr. President, and through you the directors and the people of all Texas as well, upon past achievements, knowing your laudable ambition to make this the most successful exposition of this kind ever held in the United States, and

Want to Organize a Mutual Casualty Insurance Company

Austin, Tex., Oct. 18.—The commissioner of insurance and banking has submitted to Attorney General Looney the question as to whether a mutual casualty insurance company may be licensed to do business in Texas. There is no law in the state permitting the organization of such companies in the state and there is no law authorizing the department to issue a license to such a concern.

This company desires to come into Texas to do business under liability insurance act on the mutual plan.

KATE FRIEND, Editor

MRS. W. E. ANDERSON WITH OLD HOME FRIENDS
As a passing visitor late in the week was Mrs. W. E. Anderson, a former popular matron in Waco society. Mrs. Anderson, now in Austin, is only a passing visitor, but her former friends found opportunity to make her stay full of pleasure.

WOMEN MUST TALK PALACE
WHILE THEY ARE IN DALLAS
It is now the season to pay calls to the Dallas fair, and to invite a return of the call to our Cotton Palace. Not a woman should board the train from here unless she has her bag filled with the woman's post cards. And, these should not remain in those bags. Be a booster; women boosters, they say, are the best.

MISS BESSIE EILERS AN AUSTIN BRIDE-TO-BE
Both Austin and the San Antonio are referring frequently to the ante-nuptial courtship being paid Miss Bessie Eilers of Austin. This comes as a November wedding and is anticipated as a brilliant social event. The groom is Dr. A. F. Beverly of Austin. This occasion less personal interest in Waco, since the Eilers family is connected with both the C. J. Glover family and Mrs. A. P. Duncan.

LISTEN TO THIS: ARE THERE NOT OTHERS?
The women of Waco have invited the surrounding towns to make appearance in their parade on Woman's Day. The first response has come. McGee will be over with two decorated cars, and the Cavitt Shetland ponies, each with garland necklace and cute little riders. Are there not similar responses to come from West, Mart, Marlin and other nearby neighbors?

THE MARY WEST CHAPTER TO MEET WITH VETERANS
The members of the Mary West Chapter will meet with the Pat Cleburne Camp at the court house this afternoon. Also, any friends of the ten veterans who will be memorialized in this hour are cordially invited. The program will consist of a reading and address, music, voice, violin and piano, and short talks upon the personality of the ten comrades whose passing away within the past year has been inspiration for this service.

REHEARSAL CALLED FOR MONDAY MORNING
Miss Emma Beer with the Meadams W. J. Lincoln and Howard Mann request the attendance of every young girl who will take part in the vaudeville on the night of Monday, day. This will be at the Cotton Palace on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The committee announces that this will positively be the last meeting when new entries can be made. Rehearsals must be held on Monday morning, and staged with credit to the committee, the participants and the Cotton Palace. It goes without saying that prompt and regular attendance is imperative.

MR. AND MRS. TOM JACKSON ENTERTAIN THE STEWARDS
The last in the pleasant monthly reunions of the board of stewards for the Austin Avenue Methodist church, together with their wives, came with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jackson. This is an unusually pretty new home on Morrow and Twenty-second street, where Mr. and Mrs. Jackson gave every evidence that they enjoyed their privilege in these special guests. Following the business session, a general meeting together in the reception hall was the occasion for contest, games and music from Miss Jackson, interrupted only by the passage of a plate with deviled crab and appropriate side relishes. The attendance represented about the full stewardship.

SOCIETY PATRONIZES ANNA HELD ENGAGEMENT

The first real society flourish for the opening theater season will come with Anna Held, matinee and evening. By the way, Messrs. Ingraham and Brian report the banner year in prospect for the Auditorium. The October bookings have been announced. The November are soon to come with much good to tell along the line of theatrical attractions. The Anna Held matinee will be something to attract every matinee girl and her chaperone. In advance of Anna Held it is noted that W. B. Carpenter will be host to a party for a party of friends from Mart. W. B. Saunders has also had seats reserved for special guests. With two hosts, the outlook is for much of this pleasant way of returning social courtesy upon the part of the Waco bachelors.

A CIVIC SUGGESTION FOR COLUMBUS STREET

Nothing one of the several suggestions from the woman editor of the Morning News, one observant woman who feels pride in her home city, rings to suggest that some attention be paid to the curb on Columbus street. This is more than urgent, since, with the recent paving, these spots are a menace to civic beauty. Every guest for the Cotton Palace will be driven on Columbus street. These do not know what has been done, how recent the paving, etc. They will only see apparent neglect and lack of civic pride upon one of the principal streets of our city. If this subject upon this prominent street, what may be the condition in more remote localities, the visitors will remark. We may not know it, but the smaller towns of Texas are up and doing along the line of city attractiveness. Waco must hold her own; nay, she must do more, she must set the example. Therefore, heed the call of the woman who suggests through the Morning News that every home on Columbus street should make neat at least the park before her door.

MISS LILA FITZPATRICK HAS SOCIAL COMPLIMENT

In honor of her coming marriage with G. C. Thomson, Miss Lila Fitzpatrick was the guest of honor with the Misses Dupre. In addition to the many roses of the pink where the bride's maid is suggested, the bride herself was reminded in pink hearts, these appearing as the principal parlor decorations. A vine of foliage was the relief. Where the refreshments were offered, the chandelier above the table was heart fastened ropes reaching to the corners to enclose a center piece of roses. Around this pretty piece, toasts were offered. Miss Grace Chappell speaking for the bride-to-be, Miss Harn for the girl not yet ready to take example from Miss Fitzpatrick, and Mrs. W. E. Leasing gave vision of the home in prospect. This was a shower, beautiful and useful gifts being the friendship offering to the bride to come. Victrola selections were given and Miss Bird Harn sang. Mrs. W. E. Leasing added violin numbers, with Miss Chappell at the piano. Miss Fitzpatrick was quite appreciative of the courtesy and so expressed herself in words.

MRS. F. C. MCCONNELL HAS THE NUMBER TWOS

The first social session and all-round rally of the Number Two society came under highly agreeable conditions. In this, Mrs. F. C. McConnell invited the society to be her guests. She entertained them beautifully. Fresh flowers, and they are outdoing themselves in beautiful blossom this year, were everywhere. Refreshments were in readiness for the last of Mrs. McConnell's gracious attentions. More than a hundred were present. The more formal feature in program, touched upon foreign missions. Mrs. J. L. Kessler, having a sister in the Mexican field, and Mrs. Lee Daniel having the same in China, gave quite a personal message, these women reading extracts from letters sent to their exposed actual conditions in Mexico, while those of Mrs. Daniel centered upon the work in the Annie Jenkins Salles school. Mrs. J. W. Harrell was leader for the afternoon. Music was given by the Meadamses, G. J. Rousseau, W. L. Crosthwaite and Marian Fuller. Enthusiasm prevailed, and the Number Twos were inoculated with renewed enthusiasm.

THE SOMETHING NEW HAS COME UNDER THE SUN

Our Bible book, Ecclesiastes, may be correct in saying, "There is no new thing under the sun." At least, at the time, the remark may have been true. But, never when we hear that a silk skirt lady with a monkey gamboling under the slit, can we say again there is nothing new under the sun. Who ever would have thought of such a freakish thing? Why will she who calls herself a woman do such a thing? This is in preambles of an article read from a recent New York paper. The female in question (we cannot call her a lady, because she is not refined, and we cannot call her a woman, for a woman has too much sense for such an act, so is simply passed as female) appeared on Fifth avenue, the home of the exclusives, with her parting and closing skirt, showing beneath a mischievous monkey playing with the calves of her leg. It goes without saying that the animal was on a leash in the hose. We do not believe a real monkey would allow himself to be subjected to such a freakish procedure. We may not all want monkeys on our hose, but we can all pause to consider how far we are going in these freakish and abortive ways called style, and resolve to have none of it for ourselves.

A WEDDING IN AUSTIN WITH A WACO GROOM

The marriage ceremony of Julius B. Early of this city to Miss Alia Nitschke in Austin is reported as an event of elaborate detail, and of sufficient interest to attract friends from many places in Texas. The ceremony took place in the Catholic church, whose marriage ritual is always impressive. The musical feature found voice, violin and organ as prelude, and the ever-pleasing "Trauermusik" as accompaniment to the spoken words. The decorations were remarked as beautiful, the rose with foliage being used more prominently. The wedding party was large and imposing, and introduced the tiny ring bearer and flower girl. "Elegiant simplicity and artistic elegance" are the adjectives used in description. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the home of the bride. Here decorations were elaborate and the assemblage of guests notable. Valley blues were added in delicacy to the rose and the foliage. The bride gave a signal through the tones of "For Love's Sweet Sake." For the entrance the professor gave the Lohengrin. The bride party came slowly down the stairway, within the balustrade of greenery, the purity of the bride's white satin gown being thus given accent. She wore an orange bud clasp to her veil, and in her hand was the cluster of choicest bride's buds. Reverend Dietz was in waiting to conduct the ceremony. Miss Sadie Stoltz was maid of honor. She wore a costume of bridesmaid pink. The Misses Hester Dietz and Besale Barrett, as attendants, appeared in yellow and blue, each with lace drapings. The groom's attendants were Charles Miller, George Bilew, Friends of the bride, the Misses Marie Pfaffle and Minnie Stoltz, dipped the punch. The bride presented her attendants with gold wish bones, while the groom's attendants were presented with the groom's watch. The bride exchanged her robe for a going away suit in the new mahogany shade. This was worn with fur.

The bride was Miss Addie Miller, who is now Mrs. Hoerster of San Antonio. She leaves a host of friends as she goes to make her home among those of her young husband in San Antonio. Mr. Hoerster travels out of San Antonio, and is well and favorably known in the Austin City. Many gifts and numerous telegrams gave evidence that this marriage was an event of note in many places. Quite a number came especially to join in first congratulations.

When Your Appetite Comes Back to You
It is a Sure Sign Your Stomach is Able to Work. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Give You a Rousing Appetite.

It is the greatest joy in the world to be able to eat what one wants and no misery can compare with that which comes when an appetite fails. When the stomach cannot digest food, the system revs, and the very idea of eating, but when the digestive apparatus is restored to its normal condition every quality of mind seems to make a man cheerful.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets mix with the food you eat. The stomach by its peristaltic action churns and moves the food around the stomach, and the powerful ingredients in these tablets instantly begin digesting the food as they are forced through it and around it.

These tablets regulate the strength of gastric juices. If there is too much acid or alkali then Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets reduce or dilute these evil conditions and prevent the irritating and raw stomachs which always come with dyspepsia. Indigestion and its written applications with Mrs. A. C. Patton before Monday afternoon. So far, only two organizations in all Waco, where women are concerned, will not appear in the mammoth women's cleaning for the city. robe, a convention gown, was richly embellished.

Mr. and Mrs. Early are now taking their wedding trip. They will be domiciled upon their homecoming with the first of November on Sixth and Columbus streets. This bride is from the State University, where the groom was also a student. His fraternity, the Theta Xi, attended the wedding in a body. The bride's attendance represented her student friends from the "State." She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bassett Nitschke, one of the time-honored families of Austin. Mr. Early is originally from North Texas, where his family is widely known. He is now identified with Waco business and returns with his young wife for hearty congratulations here.

THE INSIDE OF THE CUP. BY WINSTON CHURCHILL

It is not infrequent that the editor of the woman's department is approached for suggestions as to what is new and good in life fiction. These days bring so much which is meretricious that the woman who reads does not care to waste time. It looks now as though Winston Churchill's latest is the strongest book of the season. It is interesting to the literary student to watch the career of this man. Also the clubs who follow the current men of letters and their works will do well to give more than passing attention to Churchill. It not infrequently happens that the author who makes his fame with one book lives upon that, and can never again reach his first strength. Not so with Winston Churchill. Comparatively a recent man, Mr. Churchill evidently is an indefatigable worker, and his brain must fairly overflow with imaginative people and incidents for his novels. For in a few short years, fifteen if we err not, he has given us "The Crisis," "The Crossing," "The Conquest," "The Modern Chronicle," "Mr. Crook's Career," and now "The Inside of the Cup." In these the author has moved down in orderly sequence from colonial days to the present.

"The Crisis" touched upon the civil war atmosphere and stirring scenes. "Conquest" deals with a typical American man, heroic in strength, hardy, flooded with finance and plunging. Jethro Bass is indeed a strong and true man of today.

"Mr. Crook's Career" is pronounced one of the best stories of American life ever written. The Inside of the Cup has found a complimentary copy placed with many notes of praise. These all pronounce it a strong realist work. Around the story is woven the readjustment of Christianity to modern conditions. The book is wholesome, and it is at the same time of absorbing interest.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING WITH MR. AND MRS. MILLER

The Miller home, already attractive in every way, was given special treatment for the important event of the day. The decorations were in plenty, the gorgeous roses of this season, and the more delicate fern gave the material from which the admitted decoration was done. The guests bidden were received by Mrs. Clara Miller, Mrs. Arthur Miller, Mrs. Schuler, and Miss Cornelia Schuler. Pink, white and green was the color touch to the bower in which they stood. In the parlor the home altar had been devised with its background of foliage. The room in which the health was drunk to the newly wed also received tasteful touch. The bride's cake was on a mat of natural valley lily fringed with fern fronds. When the time for the ceremony arrived, Miss Ella Stoltz's sweet voice gave a signal through the tones of "For Love's Sweet Sake." For the entrance the professor gave the Lohengrin. The bride party came slowly down the stairway, within the balustrade of greenery, the purity of the bride's white satin gown being thus given accent. She wore an orange bud clasp to her veil, and in her hand was the cluster of choicest bride's buds. Reverend Dietz was in waiting to conduct the ceremony. Miss Sadie Stoltz was maid of honor. Society Notes.

The Meadamses, J. W. Madden and Louise Madden Brown are expected from Tennessee at an early date for another winter season with Mrs. Walter Fort.

Mrs. Henry Trantham is now expecting to become matron of her pretty little home on Third and James. The finishing touches are being put, and removal is expected within the coming week.

If weather conditions are favorable, Mrs. William Early will move into her new home on Bell's Hill within the coming week.

Miss Vashlie Hubby has entered Tulane university, New Orleans, for the winter.

Now that Mrs. Aynesworth has opened the season, it is the next for a brilliant afternoon at home. It is suggested, and timely so, that every woman in Waco give attention to her home premises, her alley and her curbstones. We have a general cleaning for expected home guests, why not a city cleaning for the city guests? We are beginning to hear the turkey gobblers' last notes, for soon he goes to the execution block for Thanksgiving. Does not time pass? We seem only waving fond adieu to the good old summer time, and here it is getting ready the Thanksgiving dinner.

At least a half dozen have discussed presenting application for membership in the Shakespeare club, principally women who have enjoyed clubs in other towns, and desire to continue this affiliation. Such should have their written applications with Mrs. A. C. Patton before Monday afternoon.

So far, only two organizations in all Waco, where women are concerned, will not appear in the mammoth women's cleaning for the city. Whenever we apply, there is always a life principle involved in every-day happenings. Now, with the Cotton Palace, is it not the time for the women to realize what keeping one's word means? "Waco's Greatest Department Store" are giving the labor of love. It is so little for each who promises, even at a sacrifice, to keep that promise.

Miss Nancy Lacy is leaving within a few days for Albany, where she will remain for the wedding of Miss Camille Webb. Miss Stella Lacy is going to Bryan for the marriage of Miss Mary Ross Parker, also an early November event.

Great was the consternation in New York late last week when the first steamers landed since the tariff bill was signed. The women had not had time to hear the clause which prevents the cigarette to come into America. But the custom house was lenient this time, and none of the treasured plumage was clipped from mid-lady's hat as it will be in the future.

All over the country the cry is, "More trees for city streets." We here in Waco have more in proportion to our size than many cities of America, and yet our women do not so much appreciate their civic asset as to see whether or not their trees are diseased, much less trimmed symmetrically.

With the return home of Miss Alice Brazelton she will be accompanied by Miss Esther Woodward, who will remain a Cotton Palace guest at the Brazelton home.

Now, once again, if we leave our card an afternoon at home, the hostess really does not care for the tissue slip which goes between; neither does the grow excited over having all these strewn on her gallery during her receiving hours. If needs be, we will have to provide two trays, the one for the visiting cards and the other for the slips which the women now handle so carelessly.

The table tray for card luncheons introduced by Mrs. William Carroll at her recent party has received much favorable comment from the women who are on the outlook for novelties. And more taste says, no stiff decorative features in our party giving according to that expressive phrase, "Disorderly order and careless care," is much more acceptable than crosses and gowns and bells.

There is now out a children's edition of Ivanhoe. Encourage the boys and the girls to read such. The principles are pure, and, at the same time, the interest is such as carries with the impressionable youth.

The home fashion talks insist that we are passing out of the time for periodical papering of our walls; instead is coming the more permanent decorated panels, every home thus becoming distinctive in its treatment. Mrs. George McLendon seems to be the advance guard in this among our city homes.

To be honest, Waco mothers are not careful enough over chaperones out at the Huaco club. Not that anything has gone amiss, not at all. But, the young girl needs the safeguard of a chaperone so that she may be free to enjoy herself. It is not obligatory that all mothers shall accompany their daughters every time. But these should assure themselves that some matron friend will be at the club as chaperone in general. As it is, the young girls go with never a thought as to whom they shall meet. Wherever young people are congregated, there a chaperone should be.

Notice to Subscribers.
Delivery routes in the city of Waco are in the hands of independent carriers, who buy their papers at wholesale prices. Subscription accounts are due them, not the Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price which they receive from subscribers. This margin of profit is such that they can not afford to extend credit except month by month. They are not required, and are advised against, delivering the paper to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hardworking young men, and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

The Morning News should be delivered throughout the City of Waco by 6:30 a. m. and subscribers failing to receive the paper at this time will confer a favor by phoning the circulation department, both phones 1132, and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

A POWERFUL PRESCRIPTION.

The letter of Colonel Roosevelt to the campaign manager of Mr. Mitchell, fusion candidate for the New York City mayoralty, approving of Mr. Mitchell's "city planning platform" and endorsing him for the office has one statement that we wish the colonel had elaborated to the extent of advising of the best method of control by the city government of "franchise holding public utilities." The letter has attracted wide attention, and deserves to—especially this passage:

"The powers of municipal government should be actively employed to not merely honesty, economy and efficiency in administration, stability in public credit and enforcement of the law, but also better housing and living conditions for wage earners, more adequate means of effective, continuous control over franchise holding public utilities; a more comprehensive system of public parks and playgrounds, a co-ordinated and cheapened system of transportation to make the suburban districts a unified part of the greater city; the socialization of the facilities for the public enjoyment of music, art, science, athletic diversions and the like; a readjustment of taxation so as to make its burdens more equitably distributed, and the exercise of the taxing power of the State a factor for economic justice."

It is hardly clear why this eminent publicist employed the contrast, for assuredly "efficiency" in administration would include most of these civic betterments essayed or extended, if not all of them. It is a powerful, statesmanly prescription, however, for a great city made and it could be applied with even greater strength to a great city in the making. We would have welcomed the colonel's advice, we say, as to the nature of "more adequate means of effective, continuous control over franchise holding public utilities," for in view of other utterances of his we would expect him to advise co-operative rather than a critical attitude on the part of the municipality toward the corporations. We would expect he would suggest that new franchises be required to provide for the city's growth in population and residence sections to the extent of the assured promise of that growth, and not only meet present conditions; but, more, we expect he would advise that former grants of franchise that were not sufficient to meet the change in municipal condition be remedied by prosecution, by the administration, of a policy of friendly dealing with the corporations in every respect, to the end that improved systems of utility would benefit the franchise holders as greatly as the people. This can be done. It is coming to be the sensible demand of the public.

But Not Well Credited.

The puns of Tom Hood are well known. —Tit-Bits (London).

As puns, perhaps, but not as Tom's puns. "His death, which happened in his berth, at forty-odd befall; they went and told the sexton, and the sexton tolled the bell"—"Faithless Sally Brown"—a conclusion, for example—still is inflicted as original in many a vaudeville act and amateur entertainment, in one form or another; or credit for it runs wild from Joe Miller down to Jim Thornton or Tom Seabrook. The punning poets have a deal to answer for, and others should not be held guilty. Too much of their guilt has survived in modernized shape.

Vote on Each Important Change

Perhaps the liveliest problem, and the hardest the charter committee will have to decide this week or in some meeting soon is the manner in which the proposed new code of government shall be submitted to the voters. Already there are statements, amounting almost to report, that the committee may vote to submit the document as a whole, whereby the people will have to accept or reject it as a whole.

We earnestly hope no such decision will eventuate. This new charter is not, we think, a makeshift for five years or fifteen. Giving the subcommittee much credit that it deserves for a year of conscientious labor put into the framing of this proposal, whether or not we agree with all its provisions we want to believe it is intended as a permanent code for Waco. We realize that under the "home rule" act there need be submitted to the voters only the more radical—we might say revolutionary—changes in the form and method of government carried by the new charter. But there are enough of these innovations for the city in the proposed charter to warrant the recommendation that the people should be permitted to vote on each, favorably or otherwise. The document is replete with change. If it is accepted at the polls, we want it to be accepted for a long term of years. The demand of time, trouble and uncertainty attendant on frequent changes in form of government should be obviated, if possible. And we think this is possible.

We earnestly advise that the people be given opportunity to vote on the question of salaries for mayor and commissioners, there being submitted for choice the proposals on this line presented to the committee. We have argued for higher, fairer salaries and the requirement that the commission-management of the city's business devote all its time to that business. But the taxpayers must pay those salaries, high or low. We hope they will conclude that Waco is city enough and cityified enough to deserve and demand a proper, properly compensated municipal management. We believe our prescription to be the best for the city of any yet offered. But this is for the taxpayers, the voters, to decide. The money concern is theirs.

We see no merit in subjecting the result of the committee's labors to the possibility of entire defeat—if, indeed, there is not a probability of entire defeat by reason of the fact that some citizens cannot and many others will not devote deserved time and thought to this charter—by submitting such a mass of legislation to the voters, as a whole. It were more just and sensible to submit separately the less important changes, and arrange for alternative voting on the vital changes. Thus, also, the people should be permitted to vote separately on the radical change of a public service commission, and to this end the committee must work out some further revision of the document that will allow of separate submission of this feature; for the public service commission method of appointing city employees is so interwoven with the whole document, and other references to its powers appear in so many sections, that there must be provision for retaining former method of appointment if the people reject the new plan.

There is among many reputable, substantial business men and taxpayers a distinct sentiment in favor of an entirely paid fire department; these taxpayers are not making the difference in cost between a wholly paid department, with more men regularly on duty night and day, and a so-called "volunteer" fire department whose fire fighting, practically entirely, is done by men paid by the city, the only criterion to be considered in such a change. They are taking as their criteria the growth of the city, thorough competency in service as befits a community claiming classification as a city; and the fact that the real city of today would as soon consider the advisability of having a volunteer police force for the protection of life and enforcement of the law only when the law is actually violated and life is endangered, as of having a volunteer fire department for use in emergencies, with fewer men than a growing city needs for the conservation of its real property. The reckoning of many taxpayers in Waco regards tomorrow, as well as the city's today. And the people should be permitted to vote on this question. It may be that the people will conclude they are about ready to have the fire department's chief appointed by the city government as a city-paid employee—as is done in the vast majority of cities—and it may be that the people will want a fire department operated as a purely city-business enterprise, with social and political features eliminated.

The people should vote separately on the charter provision for the initiative, referendum and the recall. On the provision regulating renewal, or extension, of franchises—a most important consideration in the development of the whole city. On the question of retaining the board of water commissioners.

Or even on the make-up and authority of the board of health.

We have suggested these as some of the more important changes—some of them are most beneficial to the city and its government and others, as we have said, we cannot approve—that the voters should deal with separately. We cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that the new charter is designed as a set of regulations for the city of a fair degree of permanency—for a city whose values, whose population and commercial importance are increasing steadily with the passing of every year. We think every consideration of fairness, as well as every consideration of a satisfactory determination of this big question of government, should prompt the committee and the commission so to frame the charter ballot that the people may vote for or against each distinct change, whether it is an innovation or an extension or a curtailment of present powers and methods. And we think the proposed charter should now be contrived by the committee in a manner that will permit of the possible rejection of some proposed phase separately, without destroying the remainder of the document and the remainder of the committee's patriotic labors.

The general committee will tomorrow start on consideration of numerous amendments presented at the last meeting, some of which amendments we have discussed and commended. It is our view that the committee has hurried itself and the public somewhat unjustly in declaring that the time for submitting amendments closed on October 13. It required a year for the subcommittee to frame this draft. Wherein is there reasonable expectation that the general committee, and the general public, can give the necessary study to these many novel concerns in less than six weeks?

In view of the method of disposing of the subcommittee's work and the suggestions of citizens, as well as the further amendments proposed by members of the general committee who were not on the subcommittee, that the committee, now meeting, has elected for its deliberations, the Waco Morning News considers it will be a distinct gain to the citizenship if the proposed charter and the many changes it contains are given the fullest publicity of discussion. This is a situation that seriously concerns every citizen, every property owner, every business interest and every civic organization in Waco. If the general sentiment of the public toward any proposed change is known, the committee and the commission will have guidance, especially in deciding the question of the proper manner of submitting this document to the voters, and can even decide in some instances whether it is worth while to incorporate the proposal in the document—risking defeat of the entire proposition by reason of the unpopularity of that proposal, possibly.

So the Morning News will open its columns to all signed communications discussing the proposed charter; communications both in favor and in opposition to any or all of its provisions. Discussion in this form reaches thousands of residents, and will do much to aid the average citizen in arriving at a conclusion as to the merit or detriment of any feature proposed. The public is now following closely the reports of the deliberations of the charter committee, and general and special comment thereon will be a definite help.

The Usual Resentment.

Comparing coal prices with what they were some years ago and seeing the immense dividends paid by the hard-coal railroads and mining companies, consumers have a very hard feeling against the combination which virtually, if not completely, controls the trade in anthracite.—Baltimore Sun.

There is reason enough why the department of justice should endeavor to break up a "combination" in any business, and a deal of reason why the public should resent the operation of the coal interests without dwelling on the fact that those interests make much money and would make more. It is always well to be assured that the paying of fat dividends and the possession of healthy coffers is due largely to abuse of the necessity of the public for the commodity sold, before urging dividends and wealth as a reason for legal attack. There has long been altogether too much eagerness to jump on the man and the business that succeeds notably, and in this land of the free there are unrestrained aggregation of agitators, dynamiters and violence-workers who ask no better excuse to take the law into their own hands—break it. If the coal interests' combination is to be destroyed—and it should be—the destruction should be based wholly on proof of restraint of trade and control of price therefrom.

We are awaiting a statement from the Hon. Y. S. Kai of his experiences with the patronage. Hoping, for his sake, that a few overzealous and turned-down office seekers will adhere to the ancient custom of the land and make Yuan feel badly by suiciding on the Yellow House steps.

YOU WILL NEVER KNOW

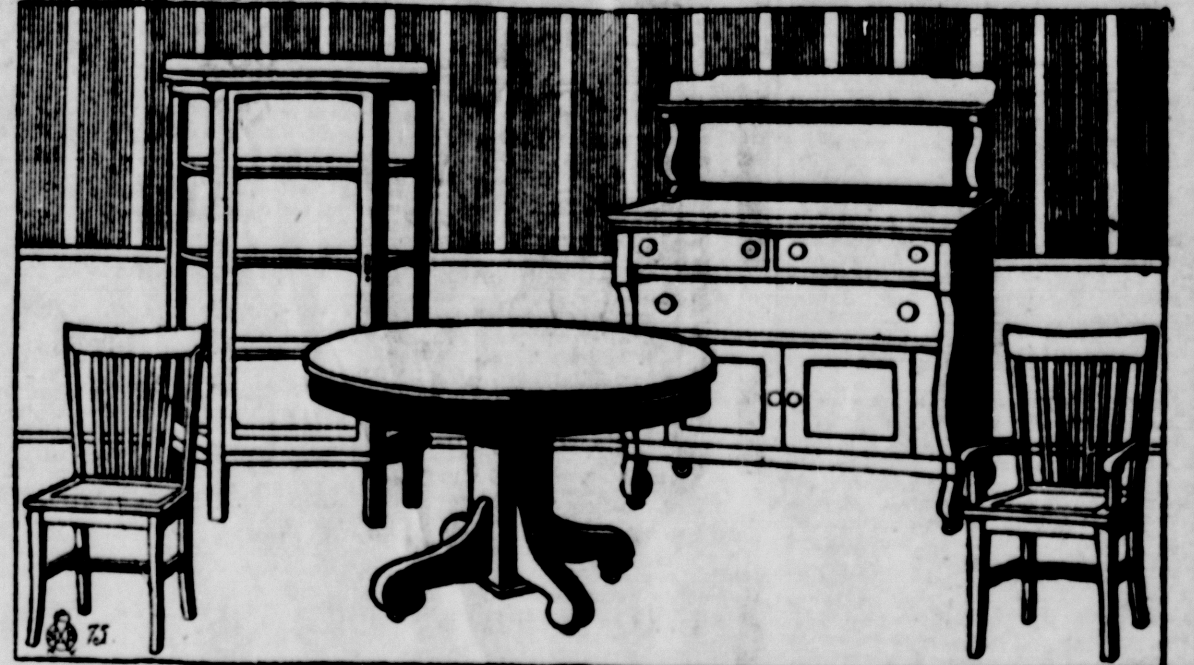

Just how easy and how convenient it is for you to furnish your home—unless you try our Partial Payment Plan. Credit is the foundation of the nation and the home. Nine out of every ten homes are furnished on credit. Few people, no matter how good may be their circumstances, have the ready cash to pay for furniture when they need it. Our Divided Payment System settles the money question. It removes every obstacle between you and a handsomely furnished home; and, best of all, it costs no more than if you were paying the cash. Now isn't there something that you need to brighten up your home—something that you have been promising yourself—just as soon as you can spare the money? And don't you find it just as hard to spare the money now as you did the day that you made that promise? Of course you do. Now if you will come in and select what you need, we will send it out. You can then pay for it in a manner that you'll not miss the money and at the same time you've kept your promise.

STOVES! STOVES! STOVES!

That is what everybody wants now. Just see how comfortable and cozy this room looks. This Cole's Hot Blast Heater radiates more heat than any other heater on the market—of the same size fire pot—because it is absolutely air tight, having no loose, leaky joints to allow the draft from the flue to draw the gas from the coal up the chimney, as is the case with the under-draft stove or the cheap imitation Hot Blast stoves. Why not use a Cole's Hot Blast and get every heat unit out of a lump of coal that it contains? You would be better satisfied and at the same time you have cut down your fuel bill by one-third; this we absolutely guarantee. If you can get a heater with this most remarkable guarantee (and they cost no more than the other kind) why buy one that you know nothing of as to its heating capacity or fuel saving ability? Those are the two points about a heater that you should know.

A Stove that requires one to shovel coal into it continually to keep up a heat is worth next to nothing.

The Cole's Hot Blast Heater is guaranteed to hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning without attention—guaranteed, mind you; we don't make this statement without authority. The makers of Cole's Original Hot Blast Heaters absolutely guarantee every one of their heaters to give entire satisfaction in every respect if used as directed. WOMAN'S DAY PARADE WILL STRETCH OVER SEV-ERAL MILES.

GORGEOUSLY DECORATED AUTOS

Vehicles of Every Description, Gayly Bedecked, Will Be Occupied by Bovies of Pretty Girls.

Mrs. F. J. Lennox called a mass meeting of women to order yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, assembled at the public library to hear reports of club presidents, representatives of women's organizations and individuals as to progress made so far in enlisting autos, floats, buggies, carriages, surries, phaetons, boys and girls on bicycles, etc., in the monster pageantry for Woman's Day, Saturday, November 8.

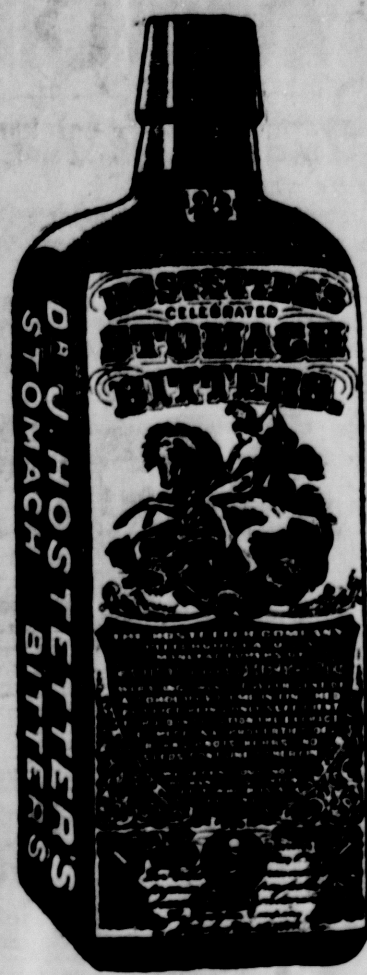

136 Vehicles in Line.
When the announcement came that 136 individual vehicles, beautifully decorated, would be in line, after various club representatives made their announcements, the greatest enthusiasm was engendered. Volunteers were then called for, and many responses were made to secure the promises of citizens to furnish autos and vehicles to be fitted up handsomely for this great feature.

A novel way to assist the owners of autos to defray the expenses of decorating machines was brought out, namely, that the women friends or neighbors of auto owners participate in the expense thereof in return for the opportunity of participating in the parade as a member of the various auto parties.

Waco Clubs Report.
Mrs. Lennox first heard reports from the various clubs of Waco, stating, however, that the women of Waco and Central Texas should not get the idea that this was a club affair only, nor a feature put on by any certain class or organization, but it is for all women of all walks. The parade will be representative of womanhood.

The clubs and organizations reporting yesterday afternoon were the Literary Club, Shakespeare Club, Press Club, Review Club, Emerson Club, Euterpean Club, Current Events Club, Woman's Club, Labor Union Auxiliary, Jewish Women's Council, U. D. C., Edgefield Park Association, Daughters of the American Revolution, W. C. T. U., Daughters of the Rebecca, Ladies of the Maccabees (two tents), Bohemian Ladies, German Ladies, Irish Ladies, Italian Ladies, Children's Division, Mother's Club, Rebecca Sparks Home, Baylor Round Table, Old Ladies' Home and Evangelia Settlement, Art League, Domestic Science, Beau Sois, Black Cats and the Thimble Club. Various school clubs will be represented, judging from reports coming unofficially from various ladies present, but who are familiar with the fact that work is being done by these organizations.

Daughters to the Fore.
Mrs. Branson of the U. D. C. made a very enthusiastic report, stating that the daughters of the Confederacy would first show the veterans in line of march, as they started to the scene of action, followed by a platoon of girl riders in white and red of the fifties, next a car of four old black mamies; then there would be a float with the grandchildren of the confederacy, and a Shetland pony brigade, with a banner showing that they all belonged to Uncle Sam now, to be followed by some old "vets" appearing as they did on the return from the memorial strife. Mrs. Branson caused a great deal of merriment when she related how her chairman secured participants in the U. D. C. division, stating that when a lady was asked to join in and was inclined to hold off she was told she would be "killed" (7) and of course, no one desiring to be killed at least until after the great parade, volunteers were quickly secured.

The Irish Collared.
Mrs. Lennox is desirous of having a most representative Irish float, with the prevailing color throughout, an Irish harp and winsome Irish lassies. It is believed that sufficient interest will be manifested to make of this float one of the most beautiful of the high standard of all the others.

Mrs. Weddington, reporting as grand marshal of the Woman's Day parade, stated that young lady riders were wanted, either in dark skirts or kahki, with blankets and bridles of white.

Police Will Be Needed.
Miss Kate Friend cautioned Mrs. Lennox to have ample police protection, as there would be a tremendous outpouring to view the pageantry, suggesting also that platoons of police have their horses in the very pink of condition. Her remarks met with great applause. This matter will be referred to Mayor Mackey and Sheriff S. S. Fleming, who is general marshal of all parades.

It was decided by the ladies yesterday afternoon to allow boys as well as girls on bicycles to appear in the parade, providing the wheels were properly decorated.

The Press Club will have a floral float with an impressive biblical setting, probably Rebecca at the well, and the parting of Ruth and Naomi. The Shakespeare Club will have a float typical of the time of white and purple embellishments, with tableaux from one of the famous poet's plays, with women heroines on horses.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will have three automobiles at least.

The W. C. T. U. will have a float decorated in pure white.

Bellies May Call on Beauv.
Mrs. Al Cowan, chairman of the young ladies' division, submitted a very interesting report, and it was decided that as this was a woman's parade, the young ladies should beautifully join in and decorate autos beautifully for the occasion, calling on their young gentlemen friends, if necessary, to aid them in this work.

Mrs. Quitman, Finley at this time reported that both telephone directories had been used in the work of phoning every lady in Waco and all the organizations of women to participate in the event, and that to date 124 absolute promises had been made. It will thus be seen that the women are working indefatigably for the grandest pageantry ever witnessed in the southwest.

The Coca-Cola company have offered to donate their five passenger automobile and four trucks for the use of the ladies, which courtesy was much appreciated.

Mrs. Fred Robinson submitted a report as chairman of the committee to secure out-of-town autos and vehicles in line. Very favorable communications were received from Valley Mills, Temple and McGregor to date, and it is reasonably certain that all the live wires, progressive neighbors of Waco will send in representatives in this gorgeous parade.

Retain Mrs. Robinson.
Mrs. Bass stated that arrangements would no doubt be made to secure the old planing mill building of Cameron & Co. on Mary, between Seventh and Eighth, and out-of-town machines can be thus assembled the day before or a few days in advance and the decorations placed thereon. Upon motion by Miss Kate Friend, duly seconded, Mrs. Robinson was continued as chairman of such a hot hand committee, as it were, to appoint her own assistants, to properly receive the out-of-town visitors and participants for the parade, to make everything as comfortable and convenient as possible.

McGregor will have three decorated automobiles in line, together with Joe Cavitt's celebrated Shetland pony cavalry, and buggies.

Will Bring a Surprise.
The entertainment feature at the coliseum in the evening to be put on by the ladies of Waco, promises to be something of unusual brilliancy, as well as uniqueness. The exact nature of the program will not be divulged, so a complete surprise will be sprung upon the assembled thousands. Miss Bella Beer and Mrs. Howard Mann are in charge, and it is sufficient to say that it will be "some stunt."

Miss Kate Friend at this time stated that the women over this entire section should congratulate Mrs. Bass and Mrs. Lennox for the splendid way all details are being handled, and should congratulate themselves that there are such noble and loyal women in Waco as those who are giving every possible assistance to the ladies named in making of Woman's Day the grandest possible success.

Mrs. Bass Responds.
Mrs. Bass, in replying, stated that it was indeed a pleasurable work, as the women were almost uniformly pleasant and seemed so enthusiastic, when the matter was explained to them, in fact they were eager to assist in any way possible, and the merchants of Waco invariably tendered all aid in their power to make of the event the greatest of all ever undertaken.

Mrs. Lennox also spoke enthusiastically of the unanimous good will and co-operation on all sides and predicted a parade several miles in length, replete with autos, float and various vehicles depicting historical allegorical and civic features of the greatest educational value, as well as offering an entertainment in pageantry unsurpassed.

500 Cards for Ladies.
Five thousand postal cards will be furnished the ladies by the publicity department of the Cotton Palace. Miss Edna Orr is the chairman of a committee of young ladies to distribute these cards to the women of Waco who will agree to send as many as three to outside friends.

Announcement was made that there would be no more general meetings of all the women, but that instructions would be issued through the press as to parade formations, assignments of autos, floats, etc., to their respective divisions and all detail matters. The parade will move promptly at 2 p. m. The suggestion was made that a very inexpensive manner of decorating vehicles to a great extent would be the use of excelsior dyed in any or various colors.

Women's Departments.
Mrs. A. W. Koch, in charge of the "Call of the Women" department at the Cotton Palace, stated that no commission would be charged for the sale of articles made by women and exhibited at the Cotton Palace in her booth, with the "for sale" sign thereon. Mrs. Koch desires entries of anything made by women, which articles are for sale. Any woman who has anything of her own make to sell can place it in this booth. The idea is to show what women can do, not necessarily meaning that the exhibitors are engaged in such work for a living.

Mrs. J. S. Hill, chairman of the textiles division of the women's departments, made the announcement that she and her assistants would be at the Cotton Palace on Thursday and Wednesday, October 23 and 24, respectively, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., to receive exhibits for the textile department. That all out-of-town exhibitors should send their exhibits to the Texas Cotton Palace Association, Waco, Texas, Mrs. J. S. Hill, Division 6, and that all articles would be taken care of.

Time Limit is October 29.
Mrs. Bass announced that the time for receiving exhibits in the women's departments would close on Wednesday night, October 29, and should be delivered before that time, so as to give the two remaining days for proper placing of same.

Mrs. John F. Marshall, chairman of the curio and relic division, stated that any one having any old object of general interest to display should leave same with her at once, old war pictures, guns, swords, old furniture, bric-a-brac, etc.

Mrs. Lennox closed the interesting meeting by stating that all the ladies would be expected to "look pleasant, please" as a moving picture film would be taken of the parade for display all over the county, as a boost for Waco. All participants in the parade will of course be pictured.

Colds are Caught in October That Last all Winter

In most parts of the United States October is the pleasantest month of the whole year. And yet October has special liabilities for those who are subject to catching cold.

September is liable to be warm, and thin clothes are worn almost universally. When October begins the nights get colder, and the day also. Yet people will cling to their thin clothes. The negligee shirt without vest is so comfortable that the men do not like to give it up. Sleeveless underwear and peek-a-boo waists have given so much comfort during the hot months that the women lay them aside with great reluctance. So it is that thin clothes are carried over into the month of October, and a great many millions of people carry them a little too long. Frequently catching cold is the result.

A cold acquired in October may last several months and do great damage. In spite, then, of the fact that October is a pleasant month, it is a month that presents special liabilities for catching cold. Of course, the best way to avoid exposure, but people will not always do this, hence colds are the result.

To have a remedy handy to break up a cold is almost a household necessity. It has been at least thirty-five or forty years that Peruna has been a standard household remedy for coughs and colds.

It is generally sufficient to take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold. The experience of the people has been, if taken in the early stages of a cold, Peruna is prompt in its action. The cold disappears very quickly.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Effective, Economical Complexion Beautifier

(Julia Orr in The Clubwoman.)

One reason I so strongly recommend mercolized wax is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored article, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears, is clearer, softer, healthier-hued and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.

For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, I invariably recommend a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salsolite in pint witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

NEW CARS RUNNING TODAY.

Four in Operation on the Provident Heights Line.

Four new cars will be in operation on the Provident Heights line today, one of them having been put into use yesterday. The cars are the same type as those on the Fifth street line. The larger type of cars have been promised by the traction company for use on all the lines of the city, and will be installed as fast as they can be gotten here. The construction of the city cars has been delayed to allow the interurban cars to be pushed to completion, but from now on it is thought that the city cars will be finished more rapidly.

TO ENLARGE MEMBERSHIP.

Retail Merchants' Association Has Planned a Campaign.

The Retail Merchants' association of this city has planned a campaign for new members, which will begin in a few weeks. The recent visit of W. J. Edgcombe, secretary of the Texas Retail Merchants' association, was the occasion of inaugurating a number of new plans, and it is hoped by the members to do more effective work from now on. A meeting will be held immediately after the close of the Cotton Palace, to promote the membership campaign. A committee to prepare for the meeting and to promote the membership campaign consists of A. C. Patton, George Stubblefield and Beecher Price.

CHARTER DRAFT COMPLETED.

Secretary Wren Will Distribute Copies Today to Committee Members.

Secretary Joe G. Wren of the city charter committee has completed the draft of the amendments which have been submitted and they are now ready for members of the committee only.

Secretary Wren will be at the city hall this morning between 9 o'clock and 11:30 o'clock and all members of the charter committee who will call there or send will be provided with a copy. Those who do not get copies this morning will be provided with them Monday.

Foster Himself Again.
Cecil D. Foster, conductor on the ill-fated Waco-Dallas interurban car which suffered disaster in a wreck several nights ago, will be able to resume his run on the line today. Mr. Foster was cut and bruised in the wreck, but his injuries were not serious. He has been compelled to abandon his run for several days.

TO INSPECT RIGGINS HOTEL.
Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Young Men's Business league will visit the site where the Riggins hotel is being erected at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The members of the two directorates will meet at that hour at the Amicable building and proceed to the hotel site. The visit will be in the nature of an inspection and for the purpose of determining officially the progress on the building. The visit was scheduled for Thursday afternoon last, but was postponed because of rain.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED! LIVER IS SLUGGISH---DIME A BOX

Furred tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and constipated bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget your children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too, occasionally.

Rose Stahl, in the Great Comedy Success, "Maggie Pepper."

At the Theatres.

CALENDAR.

Monday matinee and night—Anna Held and her All Star Variete Jubilee.
Tuesday night only—Oscar L. Figman and all star cast in Doctor De Luxe.
Saturday night only—Rose Stahl, in Maggie Pepper.
Coming—Robin Hood by the celebrated De Koven Opera Company.

The coming week promises to be an attraction with theater goers with three of the largest companies of stars coming to Texas booked at the auditorium. It is announced that in the Anna Held All Star Variete Jubilee the public will find a wholesome and gratifying relief from the flood of morbid, purring, problematical, sociological and gloomy drama which has been overwhelming and stunning the seeker after sane enjoyment; and by the same token, those who would have their entertainment cleansed of all vulgarity, those who want fresh, clean and inspiring fun, will find in this remarkable jubilee a series of spectacles, beautiful and amazing, that will linger in their memories as the high and right standard of light entertainment.
In order to present the Anna Held All Star Variete Jubilee everywhere in the same spotless and fresh condition in which it was launched, John Cort announces that he has provided his capital company with a special train de luxe, in which they will travel and live in the greatest luxury compatible with continuous travel. The magnificent wardrobes, the fine scenery and equipments, the members of the orchestra and the entire company of stage-hands, mechanics, maids, valets and helpers—as well as the star performers themselves—will thus be transported across the continent with the comfort, celerity and promptness becoming to so distinguished an enterprise. From coast to coast—Miss Held in her own private car—the entire expedition, will move intact, orderly, on time and in the same state of complete and spotless perfection in which it made its first appearance in September. The Lillian Russell All Star Vaudeville Company, which makes a similar tour, will travel in this same luxurious and effective manner.

The class and character of the great vaudeville acts included in the Anna Held Variete Jubilee which comes to the Auditorium Monday matinee and night are of the same high standard and excellence which mark every phase of this historic theatrical enterprise. The fabric of the beautiful play—fragile enough—contains six contrasted features which, individually and collectively—demonstrate to what uplifting and refining excellence the best art of vaudeville has been raised. George Beban, with his little company of ten players in "The Sign of the Cross," is but one of the several unusual numbers on the program.

In marked contrast with this feature is the Imperial Pekinese Company of six astounding Mongolian acrobats—gymnasts who startled even the wizards of China with their incredible and almost uncanny feats. Ward and Curran, in their roaring farce "The Stage Door Tender." For the dance-lovers, Francis and Florette, of Paris and New York, have been enlisted to give the final artistic interpretations of the Tango, The Beverly, The Shadow, The Manchester, the Slide Drop Glide, The Sensational Scrawl and the Hesitation Waltz.

Hirschel Hendler, a young pianist, provides an act in which his dexterity with his instrument vies for supremacy with his artistically impish impersonations of the great piano virtuosi of past and present.

Charles Ahearn and his company of ten nimble "speed burners" put the froth of laughter and the foam of fun upon the production with what has repeatedly been described as the "fastest funny act in the world."

Anna Held, herself, comes arrayed in all of the latest and most ingenious devices, creations and dreams of Paris—the Fountain of Fashion. Miss Held is almost slim now, more girlish and sprightly than ever—gowned in every glory of milliner and modiste and surrounded by a score of beautiful talented young women selected for the perfection of their physical endowments and as accentuated notes in the symphony of beauty which predominates the production.

Oscar Figman in a New Musical Comedy.

"Doctor De Luxe," which comes to the Auditorium Tuesday night, is a musical comedy with a plot, and many novel features, the conglomeration of nonsense, the riot of color, and the spirited movements of the chorus, makes such an agreeable attack on one's senses, that it matters not under what name it goes. The piece is full of action, and is as cleverly staged as the ingenuity of a master producer's mind could devise.

A press notice of the play says the first act is laid in Dr. DeLuxe's Pet Emporium, just off Broadway, during a summer afternoon, the second act in Dr. Melville's waiting room and private office, and the third act in the summer garden of the Hotel Lenox.

The story is that of John Truesdale, afterwards known as "Doctor De Luxe," who rescues a child from being run down by a motor car belonging to Donald Houston, one of the idle rich. Margie Melville sees his heroic deed, and Dr. DeLuxe is persuaded to take the new-comer on his staff. He must manicure and shampoo patients, not to speak of soothing their tempers. In the meantime, Margie takes a fancy to him, and he is called to her home to minister to a dog.

When Dr. De Luxe arrives at Dr. Melville's office, he is mistaken for the latter for a real doctor ordered to report from Bellevue. After treating a number of women who really do not know what is the matter with them, he is mistaken by Donald Houston, in love with Margie Melville, for the latter's father, and he asks for her hand. Also there is a scandal brewing because of a supposed affair between Dr. Melville and Mrs. Clara Houston, and her husband, Colonel Houston, is on the war path; then he shows up armed and a scene ensues.

Mrs. Melville has disguised herself as a sick patient, and swathed in bandages, calls Dr. De Luxe to Mrs. Houston's house, thinking he is her husband, and that if she makes believe she is the other woman, his infidelity will be revealed.

After he has prescribed dog powders for everybody, there is a jumble of exciting comic incidents, before the deception under which Dr. De Luxe travels is revealed, and he is then made the hero of the minute.

Oscar L. Figman heads the cast as the bogus Dr. De Luxe. He is assisted by Mr. Naughton as Dr. Melville; Matt Hanley as Colonel Houston; Fred Carleton as Donald Houston; Kenneth Bradshaw as Dr. DeLuxe; Eleanor Burton as the flirtatious Mrs. Clara Houston; Rita Naughton as Mrs. Melville; Ann Tasker as Margie Melville; Stance as Sadie, and Master Everett Lehman, the boy soprano.

Music by Karl Hoschna, composer of the music for "The Three Twins," "Bright Eyes," "Katie Did," "The Girl of My Dreams" and "Madame Sherry," is of a nature that will live.

Rose Stahl.

Miss Rose Stahl makes her appearance in "Maggie Pepper" at the Auditorium Saturday night only. Charles Klein in this play seeks to reveal the opera, and which met with immediate in a big department store. It is a story of every-day life, and, as it is played by Miss Stahl and her associates, it is said to grip and hold the attention from its beginning until the final curtain falls.

That "Maggie Pepper" has a strong appeal is evident from the approval it has already won from the very sort of folk whom it pictures. A press notice says that Miss Stahl has appeared, balcony and gallery have been filled with girls from the stores, and they are not slow to make evident their pleasure in the performance. Under analysis, it is the art of Rose Stahl which makes this woman genuine and real, for she has vitalized the woman conceived by the author and instead of a puppet, such as she might have been in the hands of any other actress, Maggie Pepper becomes a living, breathing entity, whose problems win the sympathetic understanding of the audience. And to the players in support of Miss Stahl is due the credit for making each individual characterization worthy of standing with the star's exceptional playing.

Robin Hood.

The nation's funniest and most tuneful light opera, "Robin Hood," will be presented here at Auditorium, Oct. 29, by The De Koven Opera Company, under the direction of Daniel V. Arthur. This is the organization formed to revive the glories of standard English struggle for advancement of a girl success at the New Amsterdam theater last season. This year it is making a tour of the larger cities, and carries an orchestra, a large and tuneful chorus and several grand opera singers among the principals.

Foremost of these is Eulalia Dill, prima donna soprano from the Royal

George Frothingham, with the de Koven Opera Co., in "Robin Hood."

Opera, Genoa, and she is assisted by Misha Ferenko of the Imperial Opera, St. Petersburg, George Frothingham of the original Bostonians, Sara Maxon, Helena Morrill, Phil Branson, Tillie Salinger, Jerome Daley, Joseph Parsons, Sid Brahm and others.

The production, which requires two cars, is the one used at the New Amsterdam theater last season.

Rex Theatre.

Manager Santikos of the Rex Theatre, announces for the coming week some very high class sensational pictures. Sunday afternoon on the donation plan, there will be shown at the Rex the "Great Aerial Disaster," in three parts. Following this all day Monday they will show "Money's Merciless Might."

All motion picture show goers are familiar with Warner's films. Some especially attractive numbers by this company will be shown during the week and as heretofore advance announcements will be made in the Morning News under Theatre Attractions.

BRILLIANT SUCCESS OF 1913 COTTON PALACE IS INDICATED BY WIDESPREAD INTEREST

Big Delegations, With Bands Playing and Colors Flying, Are Coming from All Points of the Compass Reports in Hand Show

DIRECTORS NEVER SO JUBILANT

Exhibits in Every Department of Greater Number and Variety Than Ever Before Entered for Exposition Purposes in Central Texas.

great state exposition in the story of the Cotton Palace draws near public interest in the big show increases and intensifies. Never before has such widespread attention been given to the individual features of an exposition held in the state. In practically every department, large and small, the exhibits are more numerous and of greater variety and they represent more cities, counties and towns than even the most sanguine of the directors hoped to secure for this year's show, despite the fact that the preparations have been on an elaborate scale and the expenditure of money much greater than the most lavish expenditures of preceding years.

Nothing Left Undone. Final arrangements are going forward rapidly in every department. Meetings for the purpose of shaping plans are held daily. Nothing is being left undone by the directors and department managers that will make for the success of each department in particular and the big show as a whole.

Reports coming in daily indicate that the attendance throughout the season will be large. Already it is estimated that there will be a greater number of town and county delegations coming in on special trains, most of them carrying brass bands, than have ever been assembled for a similar occasion in Texas. The Cotton Palace directors have every reason to predict and expect the most brilliant and successful season in the history of the famous institution.

BIG BISHOP DELEGATION.

Coming With Band on a Special Train November 4.

John R. Lunford, publicity manager for F. Z. Bishop, advises the Cotton Palace association that the live wires of Bishop have arranged for a special Bishop booster train to be in Waco all day Monday, November 4, that they will have six Pullmans and will bring their famous booster band in brand new uniforms; that the big delegation of Bishop boosters will also be accompanied by the ladies.

In Time to See Babies. This will put the Bishop bunch into the Cotton Palace at a time when a very interesting feature is on, namely, the Better Babies Show, in which entries will be made from all parts of the state. There will be over a thousand babies lined up with dimpled cheeks and chubby arms, vying in the contest for the array of prizes offered. The Bishopettes will also be treated to concerts by Ellery's band, morning, afternoon and evening; will be privileged to enjoy the Roman chariot races and other free acts on the Warpath and to view the south's most unique exposition.

ADVANCE SALE IS GIVEN.

Demand for Season Tickets is Large and Growing.

The season ticket sales for the 1913 Cotton Palace are constantly growing, as the people become apprised of the place of sale and the advantage of having the cardboard tickets entitling one to go in and out at will during the entire exposition period from November 1 to 16 for the price of $4 to non-stockholders, and $5 to stockholders. Tickets are on sale at the Adams hotel, where the publicity department of the Texas Cotton Palace is located. Ellery's band will play three concerts daily, morning, afternoon and evening; the gates are open at 8 a. m. daily, and a season ticket gives access at any time during the entire day and evening. The innovation of band concerts in the morning of the Cotton Palace will form one of the most pleasing new features.

BAYLOR MUSEUM ON VIEW.

Collection Includes Mammals From All Parts of the World. The Baylor University Museum Exhibit at the Texas Cotton Palace will occupy space in the former fossil building and promises to be even more extensive and interesting than in former years. A special feature of this year's exhibit will be the mammal display, a collection of all the mammals of the world, including the quagga, the rhinoceros, the Arctic Alaskan, on the north to the kangaroo, the opossum, the armadillo, the raccoon, the squirrel and many others, many of them of exceeding rarity. The nucleus of this series was the private collection of Mr. Strecker, the present curator of the Baylor museum, who first collected mammals in the early '90s. At that time there were very few naturalists who were interested in the smaller mammals, but the services of all of these were enlisted in the formation of the collection which includes specimens from Point Barrow, Arctic Alaska on the north to Cape St. Lucas, Lower California, on the south and from Newfoundland, west, to Vancouver, and from many foreign countries.

Some of the Contributors. Among the naturalists who contributed material to this collection were Edmund Heller, afterwards chief field naturalist of the Roosevelt East African expedition; W. E. Snyder of the Melhenny Arctic expedition; Allan Brooks, the famous bird painter; Prof. W. A. Bryan, head of the Hawaiian museum at Honolulu, and many others. About twelve cases of specimens from this collection will be exhibited at the Cotton Palace.

In addition to the mammal collection Curator Strecker expects to display a fine lot of curious specimens and objects from all over the world, including the American Indian, idols of savage nations, marine curios, baskets, documents of historical interest, birds, reptiles and mammals, insects and other natural history material. Everything will be carefully labeled and the entire exhibit will be of great educational value.

"BEST BEE MEN IN TEXAS."

Supt. Laws Has Their Assurance That They Will Exhibit.

W. H. Laws, superintendent of the bee and honey division of the forthcoming Cotton Palace, while recently in Waco, stated that he was in continual correspondence with some of the best bee men in Texas, who will exhibit during the exposition from November 1 to 16; that no doubt the department this year would far eclipse any previous effort.

Association's Endorsement. "Our state association," he said, "which met at Farmers' Congress in College Station, urged that the bee men of the state patronize the various expositions, showing to the world the products of the bees and the manner of packing same for market. The bee industry of Texas is assuming vast proportions, and the state is now the leading one in the union in the production of honey and the rearing of queen bees for the bee-keeping world. B. M. Caraway has kindly consented to assist me in making the Cotton Palace exhibits in the bee and honey line the grandest success possible in every way, including larger displays and the artistic arrangement thereof."

GREAT POULTRY SHOW.

Feathered Bids of High Degree Will Be on View.

The poultry show at the Texas Cotton Palace promises to be one of the big features of this year's exposition. The superintendent reports that space has already been reserved for nearly 500 birds. Many of the breeders are arranging to send whole strings of fowls in order to compete for the liberal display specials offered by the association. Several prominent fanciers write that they consider the specials offered this year are far more Liberal than those offered by any other fair in Texas.

There will be large entries in several of the more ornamental classes of poultry, and there will be pigeons and ducks galore.

The majority of last year's exhibitors spoke very highly of Mr. Strecker's management of the show—the birds were well taken care of and the premiums were paid promptly. In showing the number on the leg band of each of his prize winners and the number of birds in each class, so that he could tell which birds won places and whether or not he was paid the full amount of premium money due him.

The new building for the poultry department is nearing completion and will be in readiness to receive the birds when they arrive. The duck pond will soon be installed and the building, on the whole, will be well arranged and suited in every particular to the needs of a good poultry exhibition.

CULINARY DEPARTMENT.

Change in Rule as to Fruit Entries is Announced.

Miss Esther Gross, superintendent in charge of the culinary department of the Cotton Palace, wishes to announce that exhibitors may enter fruit of last year's preserving, the rule having been changed to suit. Hereafter only fruit of the current season could be entered.

Miss Gross also wishes to announce that cake will be shown on the first Wednesday of the exposition, and bread on the second Wednesday, all entries to be placed by 3 p. m.

Miss Gross' assistants are Mesdames D. E. Hirschman, Jack Ray, F. M. Byrne, Arthur Sanger and James Hays Quarles. These ladies are all anxious to make their department come up to the highest standard. Miss Gross requests that she be notified as quickly as possible of all proposed entries so that some idea may be gained as to the space necessary to be assigned to the culinary division.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers should apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope ready for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any drugist can order of wholesaler.

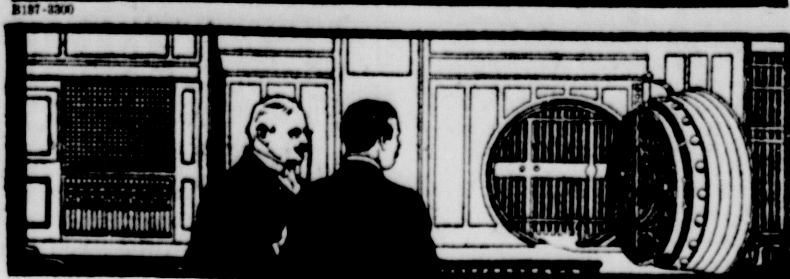

All who are anemic, thin, wasting, nervous and debilitated, I recommend that you begin their use at once and continue regularly until your system is able to assimilate the fatty elements of your food; then you will grow plump and have plenty of red blood, with color in your complexion, bright and sparkling eyes of health.

"Sick M. G." writes: "I have been affected for some months with rheumatism and have taken much medicine in vain. Please give prescription that will cure."

Answer: The most efficient prescription I have ever given for rheumatism is: Iodide of potassium 2 drams, sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, one-half ounce; compound essence cardui 1 oz.; comp. fluid halmwort, 1 oz. and syrup sarsaparilla comp. 5 ozs. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and at bedtime.

"Farmwife" writes: "You once recommended a home-made cough-syrup. I tried it and found it the best cough and cold syrup that I ever heard of. It was so prompt in relieving the severe coughs and colds and a pint bottle made at home lasted so long that I have forgotten the ingredients. Kindly publish again."

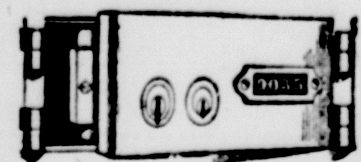

Answer: The splendid laxative home-made cough syrup is made by mixing a 2½ oz. bottle of concentrated essence of sassafras with a home-made sugar syrup. Directions on the bottle tell how to make and use. It is a fine, cheap remedy.

"A Year's Impression of Cyko"

Is the title of a paper read by the well known English photographer, W. Foster Brigham, Esq., before the recent British Photographic Congress in London. In summing up Brigham made this statement:

"The great advantage of Cyko, then, to the good photographer—one who takes pride in his work—is that by using this medium he can get the best possible prints from strong, vigorous negatives, yet secure splendid results from thin negatives easily read through. For Cyko is the most distinctive product placed on the English market of recent years, not only giving prints of unbeatable quality from varying negatives, but uniting more good features in its composition than have before been united in one single paper."

We sell this remarkable product, which is made by the ANSCO COMPANY, Binghampton, N. Y.

Let us do your Kodak finishing for you. Our department is complete in every respect. Our work is guaranteed absolutely satisfactory. We make all prints on Cyko Paper.

Choral Society for Belton.

Belton, Tex., Oct. 18.—A choral society for Belton is a possibility of the near future as the result of agitation in that direction started by well-known local music lovers who have enlisted the active co-operation of Prof. Homer Strick, who recently came here from New York to assume charge of the music department of Baylor Baptist Female college. The situation will be thoroughly canvassed and it is confidently believed that the movement will eventuate successfully.

TODAY IN CHURCHES

USUAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD IN VARIOUS PLACES OF WORSHIP.

Rev. W. P. Witsell Out of the City.
Pulpit Filled By a Visitor.
Dr. Ingram to Leave.

The churches of Waco will be comfortable this morning and evening despite the unexpected cold spell which visited this city yesterday. Pastors and church trustees were busy yesterday having stoves put in place and seeing that heating furnaces were in proper condition. Today is the first cold Sunday of the fall. A foreboding of that weather came yesterday, however, and those who attend religious services in most of the churches today will find them comfortably heated.

Services will be held in all of the Waco churches. Meetings of the young people's leagues and other auxiliaries of the churches will also be held. Announcements at most of the churches are furnished by the pastors and heads of the organizations for the day are given below.

Two of England's leading socialists, P. C. K. Ensor and Mrs. Sydney Webb, recently admitted that socialism is on the way. Whatever may be in this it is certain that socialism is changing its direction. It is to a large extent abandoning its old landmarks, "Socialist the city has gone bankrupt." "Socialist theory has gone bankrupt." of Columbia university. "The socialist party," he says, "has discharged Karl Marx from his position of chief philosopher of socialism, for total inefficiency has replaced it with a new great theories as to what would happen when the social upheaval came. There would be a communist state. And the social upheaval, Marx maintained, could not help coming, for the rich would get richer and fewer, and the poor, poorer and more violently discontented. But this has not happened. The poor are better off than ever. Consequently the socialist party has grown away from its more violent hopes of social revolution, and has become mostly a party of reformers whether they call themselves laborites or plain socialists. It is cutting us further and further from our goal."—(Marxism vs. Socialism; Henry Holt Co.)

Next Thursday is the Feast Day of St. John the Baptist, who was born in 1385, at Capistrano in the kingdom of Naples. At the age of thirty the loss of his wife and an unjust imprisonment opened his eyes to the misery of the world, and he entered the Franciscan convent at Perugia. In one meal a day, except when a particularly fatiguing journey obliged him to take a slight collation, and with his night's rest curtailed to three hours sleep, he spent his days. He preached throughout Italy, Austria, Poland and Hungary for nearly forty years. Seven thousand Hussites were prevailed upon by him to abjure their heresy, and in one sermon he converted a hundred and twenty young men and sent them into religion. His audience sometimes amounted to a hundred thousand persons. He delivered himself in such sort that even those who could not understand his language were moved to amend their lives. In 1456, at the age of seventy-one, he confronted the triumphant Turkish forces on the banks of the Danube, with some 40,000 crusaders, enlisted by himself, mostly of the poorer sort, half armed but brimful of zeal, and brought by his exhortations to a state of almost religious discipline. These he led on, crucifix in hand, and shouting the name of Jesus, and winning a complete victory against overwhelming odds. He died soon after, worn out by his exertions; his one grief being that he was not found worthy of martyrdom.

Under the guidance of the Right Rev. Dr. Vidal, S. M., vicar-apostolic of Fiji, the Catholic church has made great strides in the Fijis. A brief account of this far-off South Sea mission will doubtless be of interest to many of our readers. Bishop Vidal has seen the number of Catholics increase from 9,000 to 12,000 within the past quarter of a century. To the outsider this increase may not seem very imposing, but it must be taken into account that the native race has been dying out at an alarming rate since 1841. The population was 140,000; now it is 85,000. Diseases that have attacked the Fijians before attack them now, bronchitis, and dysentery being very prevalent. Many theories are advanced, but few, if any, can give any satisfactory explanation. Before the white man came the natives wore practically no clothing. Meantime, they have adopted the European mode of dress, but that is not unusual to see a Fijian wearing a heavy topcoat and the warmest articles of apparel. On the day when the temperature might warrant the use of these clothes, he will appear in this summer wear. This, at any rate, is said to account for the majority of deaths from bronchial affections. The missionaries are doing their best to preserve the race, and for the past ten years their efforts have not been entirely in vain. At the census taken in 1912 there were 5,000 more Fijians than there were a decade previous. When there were 140,000 people the Catholics numbered one in fourteen, but today they are one in seven. The Catholics include about 200 Hindus, for whom Bishop Vidal has provided two schools in Suva, and has taken steps to establish a special mission for them. To undertake the building of a spacious and substantial cathedral, as Dr. Vidal has in a place like Suva, needed a determination—a determination that would call forth much energy, courage and perseverance. An attempt was made to build with the species of limestone rock found in the vicinity of the town, but it proved unsatisfactory, and the stone had to be imported from Sydney. The foundation stone was laid by Archbishop Redwood of Wellington, on July 22, 1894, and in January, 1895, the work was begun in earnest. Month after month, and year after year, stones were brought from Sydney, worked up and put into structure at an estimated cost of not less than one pound per block. The financial burden was much increased by an ad valorem duty of 12 1/2 per cent. The resourcefulness of Dr. Vidal was severely tested to find means to meet the heavy expenditure. More than once he traveled to Europe to seek aid. As it was not intended to get into debt, the progress was necessarily slow, and the number of hands very limited. The drain on the mission was so severe that at last it was found necessary to dismiss all the skilled European workmen, and since the Marist Brothers, who were introduced into the vicariate a quarter of a century back by Bishop Vidal, and the Polytechnians have carried on the work slowly, but surely to its present state of advancement. The style of the edifice is Romano-Norman of the twelfth century, and it is one of the best buildings in Suva worthy of the genius and energy of Europeans. The interior is beautifully finished and the people of all denominations seem very proud of it.

Relief for Catarrh Sufferers Now FREE

You Can Now Treat This Trouble in Your Own Home and Get Relief at Once.

How the Remedy for Catarrh Was Discovered.

THIS terrible disease has raged unchecked for years simply because symptoms have been treated while the vicious germs that cause the trouble have been left to circulate in the blood, and bringing the disease back as fast as local treatments could relieve it.

C. E. Gauss, who experimented for years on a treatment for Catarrh, found that after perfecting a balm that relieved the nose and throat troubles quickly, he could not prevent the trouble beginning all over again.

On test cases, he could completely remove all signs of Catarrh from nose and throat, but in a few weeks they were back.

Careful experiments and investigations have shown that the trouble was expelled from the nose and throat, the real cause of the disease was overlooked and in a short time the Catarrh would return stronger than ever. Mr. Gauss has gone way ahead of the ordinary methods of treatment and has provided a remedy that

Kills the Germs in the Blood and immediately gives relief to the nose and throat.

He perfected the New Combined Treatment, also known as the Gauss Catarrh Remedy, and after trying many other treatments, he used this new method and "My nose is now entirely clear and free and I am no longer bothered by the disease any more. The New Combined Treatment is worth its weight in gold."

Temporary relief from catarrh may be obtained in other ways, but the New Combined Treatment must inevitably be accepted for permanent results.

EVENTS OF NEW TERM AT BAYLOR

FALL SEASON GROWS IN INTEREST AT THE UNIVERSITY.

STAR DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN

Morris, Hale and Burkhalter for Debater—Football Men Not Discouraged by Defeat.

Returning from Austin, where they suffered the overwhelming defeat at the hands of the University of Texas eleven, the Baylor football men have spent the past two days in preparation for the hard road trip that lies ahead of them in the games with Louisiana State university at Baton Rouge Wednesday, and that with the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville next Saturday. All of the men are in good physical shape for the trip, and having had their weaknesses shown them in a very effective manner in the contest with the Longhorns, the Baptists believe they will be able to strengthen their playing and make a much more satisfactory showing against the Pelicans and the Razor-backs.

On a special sleeper over the International and Great Northern, in which they will make the entire trip, the Baylor team will leave Monday morning. They will arrive in Baton Rouge in plenty of time for a good rest before the game. Returning from Fayetteville, they will come over the Frisco to Fort Worth and then come back home from the Panther city over the International and Great Northern. The officials of this road have provided the football men with the best facilities for making an extended trip they have ever had and the members of the team and the athletic authorities in general appreciate the consideration shown.

Play Trinity Oct. 31.

Following the return from this trip, the Baylor team will play Trinity university at Waco, October 31, the next game to be played in Waco being with Daniel Baker college, Nov. 4.

Earnest work among the students of the university is now under way on the proposition of the bath house for Carroll athletic field and the committee at work among the various classes are receiving substantial encouragement. While it cannot be established in advance just what the student contribution will be, it is anticipated that about $2,000 of the $5,000 needed for this purpose will be forthcoming from them. The students have proven themselves heartily in favor of the proposition ever since it was first advocated and they are backing up their enthusiasm with their cash and pledges.

Star Debaters Are Chosen.

At the meeting of the Erisophian society Friday night H. F. Morris of Waco, Joe W. Hale of Rosebud and L. L. Burkhalter of Waco were named representatives of that society in the annual Ben F. Dancer debate, which will be held early in January. The Philomathean debaters were elected a week ago. The Philomathesian orators will submit the question, with the Erisophians having choice of sides, these functions alternating hereafter between the two societies.

Interest in extempore speaking is quite strong at the university this year. Miss Thompson of the department of expression has organized classes among the young men and the young women and regular meetings and prizes of extempore speaking will be had during the year. The participation of sixteen young women of the university in work of this character is an innovation and the work will be watched with interest. Miss Edna Booth is president of the club.

Chapel Talks.

Chapel talks at Baylor during the past week have been of more than passing interest, due to the fact that H. H. Murhead, Baylor '05, and a missionary to that republic for the past several years, now at home for doing some advanced studying, has been giving some exceptionally able discourses on Brazil in a general way. His talks have dealt with the moral, political, social, economic and industrial life of the country and rank among the very strongest chapel addresses that have been delivered at the university for the past several years.

Another strong talk of the week at the university was that of M. H. Wolfe, prominent layman of Dallas, before the Young Men's Christian association on Friday night. He is one of a series of prominent speakers secured by the Young Men's Christian association to talk on "Purposes in Life," and his address was the opening one.

Interest in Nuptial Event.

Baylor people will figure largely in some interesting marriage announcements that have reached the university during the past week. Formal announcement of the marriage of E. W. Provance, manager of the Baylor Book Concern and the Baylor Press, and Miss Mary King of Taylor, which will occur at the First Baptist church of that city on the night of October 29, came early in the week, while cards proclaiming the approaching nuptials of Maurice Hivins and Miss Effie Rule Durham, Fine Arts, 1908, which will take place at Longview October 29, and of Miss Princess Finch, 1910, will occur at Longview October 22. All of the Baylor people concerned are quite popular and their marriages will be largely attended.

Ad Man to Speak.

President Brooks authorized the announcement that he has secured the consent of Dr. F. A. Wynne, an advertising expert of Dallas and member of the educational committee of the Associated Ad clubs of America, to deliver an address on advertising to the students of the university in the near future. It is likely that a number of the students may decide to enter the advertising field in one capacity or another, after they have left college, and it is with the view of giving them expert information on this topic that Dr. Wynne has been invited.

Dr. Brooks has been in South Texas for the past two days, having gone to Angleton to deliver an address before the public schools of that place. Prof. J. L. Kosler, dean of the college, returned Saturday morning from a trip that took him to the meeting of the Baptist association of Lee county, which met near Tanglewood, and the Southeast Texas association, which met at Beaumont.

New Assistant Librarian.

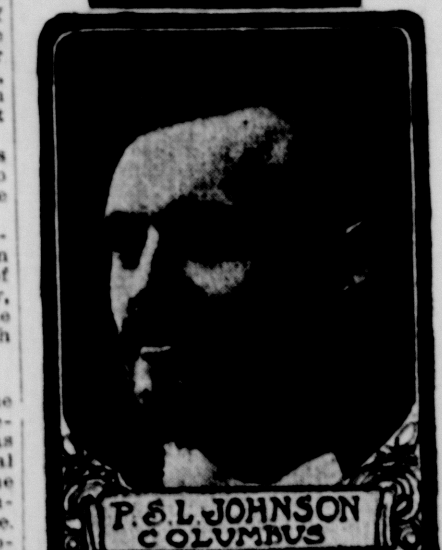

The Baylor library announces the appointment of Miss Annie Mclear, recently of the Waco public library, as an assistant. She will have special charge of the checking desk and the teachers' reference books and will constitute a valuable addition to the force. Announcement is also made of the donation of a number of valuable books by Dr. J. M. Wright of the economics faculty, the contributions having been made from his own library.

CIRCLE A GINGER ALE

LOOKS BEYOND THE GRAVE

Prof. Johnson, Representative of International Bible Students' Association, to Speak Here Tuesday.

Prof. P. S. L. Johnson of Columbus, Ohio, a student of the Bible and a representative of the International Bible Students' Association, will deliver a lecture entitled "Beyond the Grave," at the Knights of Columbus hall, Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. He comes under the auspices of the Waco members of that association and the lecture will be free to any who are interested in the Bible, and who might be interested in the remarks of a man who has made that book a life study. His appearance in Waco is in line with the evangelistic work of the Bible His Only Creed.

As a lecturer Professor Johnson has studied the Bible more closely possibly than most men. He accepts that book as his only creed or doctrine. His explanation of his address it is said that for many years he was greatly confused by the many different theories as to what lies beyond the grave. Some theories that he studies taught that heaven and eternal torment followed death. Others said paradise restored. Others after that death ends everything. Prof. Johnson determined to find out if possible the true scriptural teachings on this subject.

Devoted Years to Study.

He devoted many years to carefully studying the Bible. He has satisfactorily to himself at least harmonized every verse in the Bible pertaining to the hereafter, and now travels throughout the United States and Canada presenting to the public an address which contains a beautiful plan of salvation. In the course of his lecture Prof. Johnson quotes the scriptures to impress each point he presents. His version and his address are said to be strikingly beautiful and interesting. His talk is enlightening, and those who believe in the Bible can obtain a conception of what lies beyond the grave.

ARMY WORM HURTS COTTON.

Pest in Copperas Cove Vicinity Does Great Damage.

Copperas Cove, Tex., Oct. 18.—The army worms are stripping the leaves from the cotton plants in this section, placing all prospects for a top crop out of the question. There is also a new variety of worm making depredations on oats and cotton. The worms collect in numbers at the base of the stem and cut through the same, killing the plant. They travel in droves and work fast, completely destroying the crop and leaving destruction in their path. Samples of the pests have been sent to the experiment farm near Temple for a report on same and the measures to be used in combating them.

To Revise Temple Charter.

Temple, Tex., Oct. 18.—After an adjournment that has lasted through the summer months the charter convention which has under preparation the work of revising the charter of this city in accordance with the terms of the home rule law will commence holding sessions again during October 21 and a meeting of the convention has been called for that date by Chairman A. B. Crouch. It is proposed to push the work of charter revision without cessation from now on until the labor is completed.

Will Attend Mayors' Conference.

Temple, Tex., Oct. 18.—Mayor J. B. Watters and probably City Attorney J. B. Daniels will attend the conference of Texas mayors and city officials to be held in Austin November 4, in accordance with a call issued by Mayor A. P. Woolbridge of Austin. There is already in existence a Texas Mayors' association and several conventions have been held, but the organization has been quiescent for the past three years. It is presumed that the purpose of the Austin meeting is to revise and reorganize the same.

Shooting at Temple.

Temple, Tex., Oct. 18.—Particulars of a shooting affray occurring six miles north of here near Pendleton go, a farmer, was shot in the leg with a shotgun and slightly wounded. The shooting occurred in the open road and several shots were fired. Officers are searching for Richard McGee of the same locality, but thus far he has not been apprehended.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

What They Are Doing in Various Phases of Their Work in Texas

Reported Weekly in The Waco Morning News by Miss Kate Friend, Editor, 525 Terrace Row, Waco, Texas.

MRS. JAMES A. BRITTAIN WRITES FROM SEYMOUR

For her club in Seymour, Mrs. James A. Brittain writes that the members are already enthusiastic over their study of Richard the Third. The second part of the year will be devoted to the study of the Twelve Great World pictures, with their masters. The club has secured the small colored cards for illustrating the many interesting points in these famous pictures of the world. Richard the Third has proved so far the most absorbing of all the Shakespeare plays.

AN APPLICANT ALREADY FOR WAYWARD GIRLS HOME

It is becoming known that Mrs. Swann of West Texas is applicant as matron of the Home for Wayward Girls to be established in Texas. The subject of this home is almost in embryo, the board for location having been appointed only a few weeks ago. But there is known to be this applicant, Mrs. Swann attended the federation in Fort Worth last November, and she was one of the new club women to attract immediate attention. The work she has done, although a rural resident, has been remarkable. She appears to be a shrewd woman, full of energy, determination, and executive ability. Her application will no doubt be a strong one.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN SHOULD TAKE HEED

It is now in order for a bit of club etiquette to prevail. The state president is forming her committees for the federation, that is, the special committees. But later the newly elected state president will be making her numerous standing committees. The courtesy now due to each chairman as soon as she sees who are to serve on her committees, to write a note to each member expressing the pleasure that these are to be associated, and giving any instruction which may be necessary. When the state committees are announced, the chairmen should at once get into touch with her committee. At the close of service it is the polite thing to express some word of appreciation to each member of a retiring committee. These little courtesies should prevail in club life as well as in the so-called "society" circle. We hold that society is not a restricted term; it is wherever women are associated.

THE WOMEN IN TAYLOR ARE ALREADY ACTIVE

In one copy alone of their home paper, evidence is unmistakable that the women of Taylor are already active in a new season's work. The first note shows the Daughters of the Confederacy conducting a voting contest. The Mother's Club has had a fine meeting. Men who specialize along the lines which pertain to the school and the school children will make addresses at bi-weekly meetings. The next is a practical subject which might be passed along to every mother's club. This is "Communicable Diseases." The mothers, both in town and country, will be urged to hear this, regardless of membership in the Mother's Club. A nurse is provided for mothers who have small children and could not otherwise attend. This appeals to the writer as ideas which other mother's clubs should adopt. They are practical and timely.

The Sesame, Taylor's literary club, and one of the first in this state has begun. This club has a downtown room. The new course of study will be the greatest essayist as well as biographies of authors.

Once a month the home of a member is opened to give the social side to club intercourse. In these programs relax some. The outside work of the Sesame club is the patronage of a town library. The nucleus is made, and the Sesames invite the cooperation of other women's organizations. One of the practical subjects already presented in the form of a paper has been "How to Live on Twenty-Four Hours in a Day."

In addition to these three organizations, Taylor is patronizing the Chautauqua course this winter. This has already opened.

MRS. F. M. B. HUGHES GREET'S FOURTH DISTRICT CLUBS

Upon the awakening of a new club year, Mrs. F. M. B. Hughes, the retiring president of the Fourth District, has sent greeting to her clubs. This sounds quite an optimistic note for club endeavor. Mrs. Hughes assures her clubs that their loyalty and cordial support enable her to go to the State Federation with an excellent report. She dwells upon what the district has accomplished most along this line. A club is called to the club women's duty in observance of Fire Prevention Day and Purity Sunday, as set aside by our governor for general observance throughout Texas.

In closing, Mrs. Hughes sends letter formally announcing that the Fourth District will present Mrs. Henry B. Fall of Houston, as successor to Mrs. Hertzberg as state president of the Federation, also, that she enters the administration of the Fourth District to Mrs. J. L. Cunningham of Beaumont.

MRS. GOODHUE LECKIE ACTIVE IN ENGLAND

In her new home, Birmingham, England, Mrs. J. R. Leckie, formerly Mrs. Josephine Goodhue of Beaumont, is already recognized as a woman whose influence is worth securing. Mrs. Leckie's name appears among those who have undertaken to work for the betterment of the neglected children of England. This means the cruelly treated, delinquent, and neglected. Texas, of course, feels that England is to be congratulated at having gained such a capable woman.

REVIEW CLUB OF GEORGETOWN HAS RENEWED ACTIVITY

Through Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, one of the indefatigable workers for Georgetown, we see what is being done by the Review club upon the threshold of a new year. The Review club opened with special guests in the Art Club. The speaker of the afternoon was one of the instructors of Southwestern University; he spoke along the line of economics and was much appreciated by the women. The Review club this year is reviewing the dramas of today, including all nations. The title is "Modern Literature." Mrs. G. E. Henschen is the incoming president.

COMMISSIONER J. S. ABBOTT PLACES WOMEN INSPECTORS

The plan of Pure Food Commissioner Abbott in placing women inspectors of local groceries and markets seems to have solved much of the difficulty. Some one has only recently said, "Woman's passion for detail makes her a better inspector than a man." In three Texas towns, a woman inspector is already appointed. Dr. Abbott is now looking towards an appointment for Austin and he has written regarding the same for Waco. His reports success where the appointment has been made. Surely the inspector is needed in every town in Texas. Along this line, we quote from an excellent paper read by Mrs. Elizabeth Potter before her club in Tyler. She said: "One band of mothers organized a department to correspond with every department of the city's activity that affects the home. They received the complaints of housewives and reported them to the city hall. Wonderful were the results. Landlords were made to better conditions. Red ticks were placed in stores to indicate clean, and black ticks to indicate dirt. This was on a map and consulted by the women at large. In superfluous bakeries were found flies in molasses, rats in the flour, and men dropping sweat into the mixtures."

This is an excellent idea, and the clubs should give it attention. Then, with a qualified inspector for food only, the difficulties of untidiness will be largely removed.

The women are abetting Dr. Abbott in his statewide move.

A STATION MATRON FOR WACO TO BEGIN DUTY AT ONCE

In Houston the federation endorsed the work of the Traveler's Aid in placing matrons in all congested stations, these to aid and counsel women and girls who travel alone. While not specifically the club women of Waco, the pledge has been carried to fruition. The several missionary societies of all denominations, and these of course represent all the clubs, have made the matron for Waco a reality. She comes from Kansas City and begins work immediately. This is one more stroke in the women of Texas in behalf of the young, unprotected girl.

EL PASO WOMAN'S CLUB HELDS FEDERATION NEWS

In reorganizing for the new year, the Woman's club of El Paso has made provision for hearing the news of the State Federation at every meeting. Why not other clubs do the same? Our Federation enthusiasts would keep at much higher temperature should this plan prevail. Familiarity with any subject always enhances interest.

THE CLUB LUNCHEON IS BECOMING GENERAL

We note in many states other than in Texas that the club luncheons are coming into general custom. This is because the time has arrived when the club caterer can furnish the lunch and thus relieve the personal responsibility in preparing. The luncheon is the best means of bringing closer communion among members who are allied for a common purpose, and the clubs are coming to realize this. Hence, the formal luncheon with a speaker or singer, during the menu service, and then the more informal conference of club members over the coffee cups. Why not Texas adopt the new custom?

WOMEN OF WACO AROUSED OVER THEIR PARADE

The women of Waco are making arrangements which will give them distinction throughout their state. This will be in consequence of their mammoth parade. This already has assurance of being three miles in length and details are multiplying with every day. It looks now as if all the Waco women will be in the parade, so they are sending out the message that they expect all the women from the surrounding country to come to see them, and to spend the day. Also, many have been requested to decorate vehicles and automobiles, and to come in from the surrounding towns and join the grand demonstration. There will be a Cotton Palace division, one for the literary clubs, for the fraternal societies, the foreign women's and patriotic organizations, social life and much else. The mothers' clubs will enter. The entire parade will close with a line of handsomely decorated vehicles with individual woman riders. The night entertainment will be a vaudeville where the Waco society girls and music talent will have a prominent place. In all, the Waco women will have the distinction of giving the only strictly feminine parade ever held in the south; besides this will be full of unique devices to tell the world of spectators every phase of woman's endeavor in Waco.

WOMEN TURNING ATTENTION TO GIRLS IN THE SHOPS

A new phase of altruism is coming into club life. This has attention turned to the recreation hours of the girls in the shops, telephone offices. The traveling library idea enters and the clubs keep the recreation rooms supplied with something to read, or, perhaps it is the provision of writing materials, to keep the girls occupied during their noon hour. The idea is to keep the girls off the streets by providing attractions within doors. It seems to the writer that this is something for the proprietors to provide; however, it is timely that the club women call attention to the necessity and make the formal request that girl employees have some such provision for wholesome recreation during the time they are not behind the counter.

MRS. SCOTT ALL INTEREST OVER THE FEDERATION

If there was ever a doubt as to sincerity in club woman's purpose, this is removed when one considers the self-sacrifice of Mrs. G. R. Scott of Corpus Christi. With heart lonely and home bereft, Mrs. Scott has never once given way to self. She is at the helm, all interest and all earnestness over making the state federation in her home town a success and a pleasure. No woman in Texas has given longer, more unselfish service to the cause of the Texas club woman. And the Texas club women have come to recognize this.

Mrs. Henry B. Fall to Be Candidate for State President

It has been said that every day brings its hero—that with each change of time there stands out one man more prominently than his fellows, noted for goodness, brilliancy or genius. The last generation has given us many strong women as well as men, and one can be very safe in writing of Texas to say that the woman of the hour is Mrs. Henry B. Fall of Houston. Not only is Mrs. Fall one of the acknowledged social leaders of Houston and of the State but also is identified actively in philanthropic and club life. Any movement which has for its aim the advancement of the community or the State, which comes within woman's province, finds Mrs. Fall a zealous worker and potent factor.

At the earnest solicitation of many club women throughout the State, Mrs. Fall has been induced to become a candidate for the presidency of the State Federation. This honor, it would seem, is awaiting only the consent of Mrs. Fall to be thrust upon her, as the State meeting being only a month off and no other name is mentioned in connection with the office. For a number of years it has been the desire of many of Mrs. Fall's friends that she would allow her name to be presented for the office of State president, but she has always refused, as her duties were already numerous and she believed she was more needed in the ranks.

An Earnest Woman.

In Texas there can not be found a more earnest or patriotic woman than Mrs. Henry B. Fall, and her natural endowment of a bright mind and loving heart, have been enhanced by the culture of deep study and extensive travel. Having been educated in Texas and from her early womanhood identified with every movement tending toward the betterment of the community or mankind, she has been foremost in every just cause. Peculiarly gifted by nature as a leader by the rare qualities of mind and heart, she has been called upon to serve in many offices. While living in Beaumont, Mrs. Fall acted as editor in chief of the woman's edition of the Beaumont Enterprise, the proceeds of this publication forming the nucleus of a fund to build a clubhouse for the women of Beaumont.

Proving the words of George Eliot, "That the reward of one duty is the power to fulfill another," the good work done by her at Beaumont attracted the district to her ability and she was elected first vice president of the Fourth District. She then succeeded as president of the Fourth District for three years, during which time the educational scholarship fund to help ambitious girls was started by the State Federation and through Mrs. Fall's efforts the Fourth District led in the amount given. Since she has made her home in Houston she has always been an active club worker. The Ladies' Reading Club was the first club to enroll her as a member and shortly afterward she was elected first vice president of the City Federation of Clubs. The illness of the president compelled Mrs. Fall to assume the duties of the office and carry through the publication of a Houston magazine entitled "The Fourth District." This magazine, the Key to Houston, was devoted to giving information in regard to our city's history, its prominent people and institutions. It was put on the market at Christmas time as a souvenir magazine of Houston, many thousand copies were sold and Mrs. Fall was again instrumental in starting a fund for a clubhouse. $1500 being realized by the sale of these books. She serves two terms as president of the City Federation and during her administration the federation grew to be a power, showing the real value of united club effort.

Member of Current Literature.

The Current Literature Club of Houston attributes much of its advancement and growth to the work accomplished by its present presiding officer, Mrs. Fall. The Chautauqua Circle of this city is another literary club which has complimented Mrs. Fall with its presidency. During the past summer having finished the prescribed Chautauqua course of New York, she was graduated at the New York Chautauqua. A very pleasing compliment was paid her at the New York Chautauqua, when she was elected treasurer of the Chautauqua Women's Club of New York, which has a membership of 1000. Mrs. Fall was appointed one of the lady commissioners at the St. Louis Fair and acted as Texas hostess for a week during the exposition.

In the State federation she has served as chairman of the kindergarten committee, chairman of the lecture bureau and chairman of the conservation committee of forestry and waterways. While acting as a member of the executive board for the State federation it was her pleasure to present Mrs. Pennybacker's name as president of the general federation.

This article would indeed be long if it attempted to tell all the positions of service and honor held by Mrs. Fall and to enumerate her successes. In philanthropic, social betterment, church work, as well as active club work she has always been an interested worker. In Sanitarium Work.

Six years ago when the free ward of the Baptist Sanitarium was proposed, Mrs. Fall was chairman of the board of women who raised $5000 and made possible one of the finest charities of the city, enabling six of the city's poor and sick to receive medical treatment and good nursing, without money or price each week. She has served on the board of United Charities and as chairman of Flag Day last year she succeeded in raising $5,000 for this worthy cause.

Henry George said, "I am for men," and truly it can be said of Mrs. Fall that she is for women—always and forever. She possesses that rare faculty of being able to get the best out of her followers. She inspires trust as well as love—she is deliberate with caution, acts with decision, yields with graciousness or opposes with firmness. The experience in club work, the rare executive ability, the great influence, the intellectual superiority and the attractive personality of Mrs. Fall eminently fit her for the office of president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and indeed the State will be most fortunate to have at its helm one so pre-eminently the one to guide its leaders and be the representative woman of the State.

CUPID IS TO BLAME?

Railroad Not Responsible for Courtship of Brakeman.

A recent case in court of interest is Johnson vs. Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad in which it appeared that one of the defendants' brakemen was paying some attention to a young woman who lived along the railroad track. A report of the case said: "This brakeman had often waved at her, and had by his acts and conduct indicated friendliness toward her, and had thrown off to her magazines and other articles. At the particular time in question, while upon a passing train he undertook to deliver to the object of attraction a personal note from himself. For the purpose of weight he attached the note to a torpedo and threw the little missile forth, landing it near the lady's home. In pursuance of the intent of the brakeman the young lady obtained possession of the note and torpedo, both being brought to her by her sister. Being unaware of the dangerous character of the torpedo, she was later injured by its explosion. Her such injuries to the railroad company liable? The supreme court of Iowa holds that the act of the brakeman was not one which he was required to do for any purpose or under any circumstances in the line of his employment, but was apparently

BETTER BABIES TO GET PRIZES

CONTEST TO CONFORM IN DETAIL TO ADVANCED SCIENTIFIC IDEAS.

EACH CHILD TO BE SCORED

Those Interested in Child Welfare Are Anxious to Awaken the Mother's Conscience.

Fort Worth, Oct. 18.—"We realize that we are establishing a precedent in the Southwestern Better Baby Contest," said Mrs. Chalmers W. Hutchison of Fort Worth, chairman of the contest executive committee, "and we are endeavoring to make every detail of the contest conform to the most advanced scientific ideas on child welfare."

Mrs. Hutchison is the president of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher's Association. For years she has espoused the cause of child welfare. It is her firm belief that the welfare of babies lies at the lowed to enter the contest, each child applying for entrance will be thoroughly examined by a graduate nurse. And children showing the slightest symptoms of contagious disease, will be barred from entering the contest. Mothers who contemplate putting their babies in the contest also wish to know if the tests will be conducted in thoroughly warm rooms, and if the sanitation of these rooms will be given careful attention.

The Southwestern Better Baby Contest will be conducted in the basement and Sunday school rooms of the First Methodist church, corner of Seventh and Taylor streets, Fort Worth, Texas. The rooms are capable of being heated any temperature, by means of a well regulated furnace, and covers in individual rooms. The rooms may also be put in a sanitary condition, and will be placed in such condition under the direction of physicians.

When the child is undressed for the physical tests, the mother will be given a large square of flannel. This square will have been sterilized and rendered thoroughly clean and sanitary. It will be used to wrap the baby in when not in the hands of the judges, thus guarding against the contraction of cold. Many other precautions will be taken in the handling of babies.

FRENCH DEPOPULATION.

Taxing Bachelors Is No Longer a Matter For Jesting.

(Memphis Commercial Appeal.)

Bachelors usually laugh at the proposal to make them pay an extra tax, and the fact is that some think the joke is becoming very stale. They may yet find that it is no joke at all. In France it is among the reforms to be officially submitted to the chamber of deputies and will be a matter for early legislation.

In this country the idea of a tax on bachelors has never been seriously considered, but, like France, we may yet come to it.

The decrease in the French birth rate is partially responsible for this and other like reforms. France is not so anxious to increase the size of the standing army now as she is to increase the number of babies born each year.

It is related that one of the ladies of court, when Napoleon was in the zenith of his power, approached the Emperor with the question as to whom he regarded as the greatest woman in France. The Emperor paused a moment and then replied, pointedly and politely: "The woman who gives birth to the most sons to serve France." This was true in the time of Napoleon, and it is true today.

but the advice of the Emperor no longer seems to be heeded. France seems destined to sink into the shadow of secondary greatness. If the steady decrease in the birth rate continues, France will no longer be regarded as one of the great foreign powers of the first class.

Recent statistics show so unfavorable a comparison between the birth and marriage reports that race suicide seems to be an actual menace. It is now proposed to combat this peril by a systematic campaign. It is urged that all bachelors be taxed and that all mothers be pensioned, not as an act of charity, but in discrimination to encourage motherhood. The bounty on children as thus proposed seems justifiable, and if so the bachelor tax is also.

any reports that race suicide seems to be an actual menace. It is now proposed to combat this peril by a systematic campaign. It is urged that all bachelors be taxed and that all mothers be pensioned, not as an act of charity, but in discrimination to encourage motherhood. The bounty on children as thus proposed seems justifiable, and if so the bachelor tax is also.

It seems unreasonable to suppose that any nation has to pay its women to become mothers. No woman has fulfilled her real mission in life until she has married and is the proud mistress of a household in which the laughter of children may be heard.

It is a woman's real mission in life to become a wife and mother. The future of the generation rests with her. She should realize her importance and live accordingly. To think that women have to be paid to become mothers is almost unnatural, yet such is the case in France and it is a problem so serious and so important that the entire nation has become aroused.

It is not the present generation that France fears for, but the generations of the future. This is why such radical reforms have been decided upon.

BIT OFF THE DIAMOND.

Prisoner Shows Toothless Gums and Puzzles Detectives.

(Philadelphia Dispatch to the New York Sun.)

Upon the result of the search of detectives for a set of false teeth rests the question of the guilt or innocence of Albert Alter, of this city, who is charged with the robbery of a diamond scarf pin from Charles Lanhoif of Camden.

Lanhoif testified before Magistrate Yates that Alter approached him and indicated he wanted to whisper something. Leaning over him, Lanhoif said that Alter seized his scarf pin between his teeth and bit off the diamond.

All the while Lanhoif was testifying Alter kept his mouth closed tightly. When the complainant had finished he opened his mouth, displaying a wide expanse of toothless gums, and demanded to know how he could have bitten a scarf pin or anything else without teeth.

The magistrate held Alter for a further hearing, and ordered detectives to search the scene of the alleged robbery for a set of false teeth that will fit Alter's mouth.

JONATHAN LANE MAKES AN APPEAL

STATE NEEDS A MAN FOR GOVERNOR WHO WILL BE CONSTRUCTIVE.

WANTS TO HEAR FROM PEOPLE

Who Will Share His Views On the Subject of Democratic Principles in Government.

To the Waco Morning News:

It seems to me that the time has arrived when sincere men, who are opposed to shame and frauds, and who are tired of fanaticism, should act in concert and restore to themselves and all other people of this State an honest and practical government.

I shall assume that all good men desire to aid in establishing and maintaining a government that will produce the greatest contentment, prosperity and happiness.

The most contented and prosperous man usually is one who is least restrained in the exercise of his free will in matters which bring prosperity and afford pleasure.

Every sane person should be at liberty to do as he pleases, so long as he does not violate any private or public right, nor commit a private or public wrong.

A government should have no more power than is necessary to enforce private and public rights and prohibit private and public wrongs, to prevent foreign invasion and wrongs, the introduction and spread of disease and pestilence, and such other power as may be conferred by a written constitution, concerning things which on account of their magnitude cannot be controlled and managed by individuals, and which are of great importance to the public. Any power in excess of these is an unwarranted encroachment upon what should be the reserved rights and liberties of the individual.

We should come to a realization of the fact, well known to those wise men who established this government, that the government is and ought to be wholly dependent upon the people, and not the people upon the government.

Not Progressing.

We should realize that we are not progressing in the science of good government by asserting in pleasing terms that we are going to restore the people's government to them. Why such expressions? Who are we who have taken the people's government from them? Why did they ever let us have it to return? The people have their government. All that is necessary is for them to retain and use it and suppress the WES. Such hypocritical pretenses are only the weapons of the demagogue in advocacy of hurtful laws which make more offices, more officers, more taxes, more expenditure of the people's money, and subject citizens, individually and collectively, to greater personal control by officers, and authorize extended interference with their business and property. Such laws are adverse to the true doctrine that "those are governed best who are governed least." Our governments, both Federal and State, have widely departed from these true and correct principles. Let us, the people, force them, the officers, back, and thus truly restore the people's government to them. Will Imperial Texas, the land bathed in the blood of dauntless patriots, for freedom's sake take the lead?

Officers Become Masters.

Our proud contention has always been that private citizens of any State of the United States are not subjects, but sovereigns; that their officers are not their masters, but their servants. Once this was so, but not now. The officers have become, by our submission, our masters. We are the most restricted the most governed and the most capriciously governed people of equal learning and intelligence in the world. At what risk does any citizen oppose the orders of many officers, commissions and heads of government departments? He knows when he is or is not violating some penal law with a disgraceful penalty attached, embraced in some civil statute enacted by congress or the State legislature, and by men who have violated and do often violate them? Legislators and congressmen vote for, governors approve, judges condemn for the violation of laws which they themselves violate every day.

The Constitution of Texas provides that cruel and inhuman punishment shall not be inflicted as a punishment for crime, and that the people shall never be secure from unreasonable seizures and searches.

Constitutional Guarantees Violated.

These constitutional guarantees are violated by many of our laws which are enforced by our officers and upheld by our courts, frequently from ignorance but mostly on account of political cowardice. We should elect legislators who would repeal all such laws and a governor who would approve and urge their repeal. In many instances the laws authorize and officers exercise unwarranted, useless, paternalistic and hurtful control over the personal habits and business affairs of the citizen, thus retarding enterprise and thrift and making the people unhappy and dissatisfied, with resulting great injury to the State. This character of laws is the growth of paternalism and socialism, and they are advocated and induced by people who erroneously believe that they are wiser than the average person and that the people require official guardians of their personal habits and business affairs. If we are incapable of governing ourselves, from whence are we to get people who are capable of governing us?

Punishment is Excessive.

No act which is not a crime within itself should be punished with a penalty which disgraces the defendant or his family. Whenever the law permits such punishment for such an act, it violates our Constitution, and the courts should so declare. No act is a crime within itself which does not directly and purposely inflict injury to some other person or public generally.

No act which becomes a crime only because prohibited by law should ever be a felony nor punished with a disgraceful penalty. Any legislator who would enact such a law, the chief executive who would approve it, or the judge who would enforce it is a worse man at heart and in conscience than the man who violates it.

No government is acting within its proper functions when it prohibits the people from engaging in and prosecuting any business useful in its nature to the people or which the people believe is useful to them. I admit that majorities should rule when the matters to be affected are within proper governmental functions, but there are many things which are enforced in the reserved rights of individuals and over which neither majorities nor the government should control. If the people do not demand and desire any business, it will perish for lack of patronage. The right to regulate business by law is granted, but not the right to prohibit nor destroy. Any wise and courageous judge would so declare, and just people will so decree. The people have the right to buy what they want and to use it properly. No territorial limitations can remove the wrong of prohibition of useful vocations and trades.

State Needs Party Organization.

What this State needs as a remedy for existing evils is a party organization which is truly democratic, such as we once had, and which gave to the State an honest, free, intelligent and economic government, a party in which every participant acts from his conscientious convictions of what is best for the country; where each individual is a true sovereign, adhering unwaveringly to true principles but yielding to majorities as to preference of men and the details carrying into effect those principles.

No man should be permitted to participate in party councils or primaries who permits himself to be forced or controlled by any preferential primary or a caucus of a part of the people who merely claim to be democrats but advocate measures adverse to democratic principles. We had better have a party composed of real men, true democrats, and suffer defeat for a few years if necessary than to be chained to a party using the name while violating every principle of democracy.

The doctrine of the greatest good to the greatest number is correct when properly understood, and where it is confined to proper governmental functions.

Under a truly democratic government, there should be no trouble in putting these rules into successful operation; for under such a government exact justice to all and special privileges to none would be assured. Every honest, law-abiding citizen would be the exact equal insofar as the law is concerned of every other such man, regardless of his wealth, social or official position.

Safeguard the Producers.

The agricultural and stock raising interests would be safeguarded. Their transportation and marketing facilities would be fully protected in all instances where those so engaged could not protect themselves, not only in this State but in interstate and foreign transactions, even if it should become necessary to amend our Constitution to effect such purpose, because not only Texas but these United States must and do depend chiefly upon these interests to maintain their prosperity and perpetuity.

The day laborer and the wage earner would be properly cared for, and permitted to share justly in the wealth they materially help to produce.

The commercial interests would be permitted to freely and unhampered, in a lawful way, develop our commerce and trade, State, interstate and foreign. The transportation companies would be justly dealt with and properly controlled and protected from wrong and oppression, and permitted and required to efficiently and honestly perform the great and indispensable service they do the people.

Our natural resources would be properly protected and guarded, and those engaged in developing them governed by just and helpful laws.

Regulate the Banks.

Our banking interests would be fully appreciated and practically and fairly regulated to the best interest of all concerned. All true Democrats know that the business of the country is not financed alone with the capital invested in the banks. They know that about seventy-five per cent of the money used and loaned by the banks is money deposited with them by the people, and hence that only solvent institutions, governed by honest and capable men, should be permitted to secure and use such deposits. They know that the banks are all financed by people who earn or produce more than they expend; that he who spends more than he earns never has anything to deposit. They know that these surplus earnings is the means that furnish capital to the enterprising men, who risk all they have to develop the country and industries that furnish labor and wages to those who work by the day, month or year. They know that the poor must have employment or they cannot stay with us, and that without them capital and developers of our country cannot prosper. They know that these builders of industries are the pioneers, the frontiersmen of industrial development; that they build railroads, factories, open mines, discover and develop natural resources, convert our timber land and low lands into productive farms and establish irrigation plants and render the lands doubly productive, and risk their savings of a lifetime to accomplish these great things; that these people borrow and pay interest on and use the surplus funds of the banks and those who deposit with them, and thus make banking profitable and increase the savings of the man who earns more than he spends, and hence they know the importance of safely guarding the interests of all these people.

Democrats know the value of home manufactures to the people, and therefore would encourage properly their location and operation here.

All the people who assist in producing any of these beneficial results should share in the profits arising therefrom in fair proportion to their respective contributions to their accomplishment, as near as is possible. Every youth should be taught that so as to insure obedience to just rules. They should be comfortably housed and not overworked, but should be required to do as much work as they ought to do if they were free men in order to support themselves and their families. The religious views or practices, expense or charge upon the honest people who pay the taxes to support the government; these have sufficient burdens of government, anyway. The tax payers and not the tax eaters should direct the management of such things. Common sense and good business experience should be the rule of action, and not fanaticism or mandarin sentiment.

All State educational institutions should be adequately supported and reseeded thoroughly efficient, but those to whom the people's money is paid to teach their children and manage their schools should be thoroughly qualified to do so, morally and intellectually and should be required to do an honest day's work for a full day's pay.

Charters of municipalities and powers of subdivisions of the government should be carefully limited, so as to prevent usurpation of power and a useless or unwise expenditure of the people's money taken from them by taxation.

Men Should Be Qualified.

Strict qualifications should be prescribed to render any man eligible to hold any office. Especially does this apply to men holding judicial positions. If this were done, we would not hear so much ignorant complaint of our rules of procedure in the courts. Most of the complaints are caused on account of the ignorance or political cowardice of the judge who commits or permits the error.

I am unwilling to prohibit oratory because some orators use their gift and art to deceive, or to prohibit preaching the gospel because some preachers are criminal hypocrites and use their calling, priestly robes and license to debauch members of their church communicants' families, or to prohibit the raising of horses and cattle because some people will steal them, or prohibit the accomplishment of good penmanship because some people use the art to commit forgeries, or to prohibit men from determining what luxuries he will buy his wife and children because some men and women are extravagant and will swindle and steal to indulge their extravagances, or to prohibit learning because some people use their learning to defraud others, or to prohibit the manufacture and sale of explosives because some people use them to destroy property and commit murders, or to prohibit the use of money because it causes more crime than all other things inanimate, nor to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicants because some abuse the use of them, nor to confine all men because many of them commit crimes, nor to incarcerate or guard all men and women because many of them are unchaste, and I am not willing longer to participate in party councils with men who are pledge-bound or oath-bound in advance by preferential primaries or dark lantern caucus to vote for and advocate such things as democratic doctrine. I would regulate, not prohibit.

Texas Needs a Good Man.

Texas needs some good man for governor who recognizes the existence of the above mentioned wrongs in our government, and who sincerely endorses, at least in substance, the above approved principles, some man who has the intelligence to understand them, the courage and ability to advocate them and enforce them. Can we get such a man? We have many of them. There is hardly a county in the State which could not furnish one or more of such men. I know many of them, but will mention no names, as I cannot name them all, and do not know the man to others. I realize, however, that such a man must sacrifice a great deal to be a candidate for governor, and much more to serve four years in that office. He must under our miserable election laws spend a large sum of money to properly aid his supporters in securing the nomination, and devote much time and energy to the campaign, and if successful must devote four years of his life to the public service without adequate compensation. These facts practically prevent many suitable men from offering for the position. Some men can afford to gamble because they have nothing to lose. Suitable men have much at stake. Only the desire to do good for the public and State, prompted by patriotism, a most worthy ambition, could induce any capable man to make the race. Will any such man announce? Let us take the greedy hands of the demagogue from the throats and out of the pockets of the people. I would be delighted to hear from the people through the press or otherwise as to whether or not the views here expressed are endorsed.

Markets By Telegraph

Cotton.

New York, Oct. 18.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today, owing to the conflicting influences of an unfavorable weather outlook and rumors of large private ginning returns. Closing prices were steady but unchanged to 3 points lower.

Lower Liverpool cables, reports of larger offerings of actual cotton in the English market and the failure of the early weather map to show any signs of the predicted frosts in the southwest were considered responsible for an opening decline of 8 to 9 points. There were a good many overnight selling orders around the ring but they were asked readily at the initial figures and the market quickly rallied on covering and on apprehension that the barometer reported in the Pacific northwest would bring threatening temperatures in the belt by the beginning of next week. Houses with Wall street connections were active buyers on the advance, which carried prices about 1 to 4 points higher during the middle of the morning. There also was a considerable demand from trade sources and local bulls, but after the requirements of recent sellers had been supplied the market eased off under realizing and rumors of a bearish national ginner's report and a moderate renewal of local pressure.

An easier turn in New Orleans contributed to the reactionary tendency here, but after breaking 7 or 8 points, the market steadied slightly on continued covering, last prices being within 4 or 5 points of the best.

A local spot house estimates ginning to October 15 at 4,601,693 bales, compared with its figures of 3,017,397 bales to September 25. This indicated ginning of 1,584,296 bales for the period, added to the last government report would amount to a total ginning of about 7,000,000 bales so far this season.

New Orleans, Oct. 18.—The cotton market had a steady enough undertone today, but fluctuations were nervous within rather narrow limits, owing to conflicting influences. Weather news from the market, but every bulge brought out heavy realizing sales from the long side, as every break caused fresh buying for long account. Shorts were not much in evidence, although the gossip of the market was that a considerable short interest existed. The market was not much unfavorable, it was not bad enough to send shorts to cover.

The opening was steady 1 point down to 2 points up with the close of yesterday. Liverpool was much lower than due and called for a decline of several points on this side.

December closed 1 point lower on the call, which was the lowest level reached during the morning. Fresh buying appeared after the call and prices worked upward until they were 12 points over yesterday's last quotations. This was followed by a break of 10 points on realizing. Another recovery and another break occurred late in the session. The close was steady at a net gain for the day of 3 to 4 points. The weather map showed considerable rain in the belt and the outlook appeared to be for considerably colder weather and perhaps frost in the western belt over Sunday. Weather conditions were the main bullish influence of the morning, although considerable comment was caused by the rumors that two leading cotton houses had left for New York in connection with bullish operations now under way.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Much improved support rallied wheat today from a decline that had reached 11 cents a bushel, but the demand did not last and values again receded. The market closed weak at a shade lower to a shade higher than last night. Corn finished 1/4 to 3/8¢ down and oats unchanged to 1/2¢. In provisions the outcome was a shade to 10 cents decline.

Firm Liverpool quotations and lessening of receipts northwest gave the market a strong start. Chances, however, of a further gain in the visible supply Monday, on top of a known increase of 20,000,000 bushels compared with last year, discouraged the bulls. Pressure returned to such an extent that all the advance was lost and closing prices were at the lowest of the day.

Eighteen offerings on the corn market upgrade for a while. Predictions of fine weather for several days, however, tended to bring about a drop in values and in that end prices were decidedly weak under bear attacks.

Oats reacted with other grains after an early bulge due mainly to shorts covering. It developed that commission houses had plenty of orders to unload on all upturns.

Selling, which was laid to packers, acted as a weight on provisions. The market yielded after strength had gone out of grain.

Stocks.

New York, Oct. 18.—The turn in the tide in the stock exchange, which began in a hesitating way yesterday, came definitively today. Leading stocks were marked up 1 to 2 points. The tone of the market was strong from first to last. Can common and preferred and American Beet Sugar were the only important exceptions to the general improvement. It was generally conceded that the chief impetus for the advance was derived from short covering. There were indications, however, of more vigorous operations for the long account.

While it could not be said that there was a marked improvement in sentiment, some considerations other than the technical position of the market favored operations on the long side. The September statement of domestic exports was above expectations, showing a gain of 19,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1912. The weekly reviews of the commercial agencies indicated that general business was more active than a year ago.

Unofficial reports from Washington that important changes would be made in the currency bill by the senate committee were classed by speculators as good news.

The outstanding feature of the bank statement was an actual reduction in loans of $1,450,000, which reflected the freeing of credits as a result of the week's liquidation.

WIFE HAS RIGHT TO ALLOWANCE

GERMAN LAW REQUIRES THAT SHE BE GIVEN CASH FOR HOUSEHOLD.

GERMANY RICHEST IN EUROPE

Director of the Deutsche Bank Finds His Country Has More Money Than Any Nation.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—One German housewife at least has proved that she has a legal right to the regular weekly, semi-monthly or monthly allowance which her husband is accustomed to make for housekeeping expenses. If he fail to provide her with an allowance sufficient to conduct the household in a manner suitable to the family's station in life, she may proceed against him at law and the court will grant an interlocutory decree, under which, if necessary, a recalcitrant husband's wages may be garnished.

ruled further that the allowance must be paid in advance for a period of not less than one week. The probable expenses of the house can not be properly estimated through calculations based upon an average for a shorter period, said the court, and the wife is to be considered the husband's agent within a provision of the imperial civil code which prescribes that when an agent is commissioned to do something requiring a money outlay, the money thus required to be laid out must be advanced.

The husband can not escape his obligations to advance the cash by opening a line of credit at various shops for his wife. She must be in a position to buy where she can buy at the greatest advantage and must have the money necessary to enable her to do this.

The case that a man may have a spendthrift wife is provided for in the civil code. His remedy, in case the wife misuses her so-called "power of the keys," is to take her housekeeping into his own hands.

Wealth of Germany.
Germany is now the richest country in Europe, with an aggregate wealth of about $74,000,000,000, and an annual income from its people of about $9,524,000,000. Such are the conclusions of Dr. Karl Hefferich, a director of the Deutsche Bank and one of the most eminent financial authorities of Germany. He finds that the national wealth of Germany is greater than that of Great Britain or France, as estimated by the economists of those countries, although the latter have a greater wealth per head, owing to their smaller populations. He estimates the wealth of the average German at between $1,674 and $1,190, compared with an English estimate of $1,214 for England, and a French estimate for France of 1405, and with the estimate of the Census Bureau for the United States of $1,310.

In earning or income capacity, however, the average German lies between the Englishman and the Frenchman, the German income being estimated at $127, the French (by the French authority) at $122, while the Briton is far in the lead with an income of $194.

One of the most striking features of Dr. Hefferich's calculations, however, is the tremendous growth in the earning capacity of the German people, which may soon bring the nation to the same position of financial predominance in Europe as it now possesses in military power. He estimates the annual income of the German nation about 1895 at between $5,250,000,000 to $5,000,000,000; at present, eighteen years later, it has grown, he estimates, to $9,524,000,000, and he claims that if the annual savings of the people and the intense growth of land and other values be combined, a total addition to the national wealth of about $2,380,000,000 is registered every year.

Money in Chess Play.
Chess editors in Germany declare that the game of chess has been commercialized under American influence and they claim a striking illustration of this in the match for the championship of the world that has just been arranged between Dr. Emanuel Lasker, who lived some years in New York, and Akiba Rubinstein, the foremost player of Russia.

According to the financial plans for the match it is expected that the two players will divide nearly $10,000 between them. Dr. Lasker is now corresponding with some of the principal German chess clubs, soliciting their co-operation. He offers to have three games played in the rooms of any club that will contribute about $1,500 in return for this honor.

German writers contrast the Lasker-Rubinstein match with the one played at Paris 1888 between Paul Morphy and Adolf Anderssen, the German champion of that day. Anderssen, who was professor in a preparatory school at Breslau, was willing to rush to Paris during his brief Christmas holidays to play eleven games with Morphy, although there was no money staked on either side. On the other hand, Lasker and Rubinstein will have nearly a year to prepare for their great struggle, and it will last for three months.

Slaying in Court Room.
The slaying of Captain von Westershausen by Professor Heinrich Mass, the painter, during court of honor proceedings on September 16th, has now been followed by two more shooting affairs in a court room, one of these also before a court of honor. No one was injured in the latter case, but in the other referred to, two persons were wounded and the shooter killed himself.

Dr. Arndt of Paderborn had been engaged by a brother physician to represent him during his vacation. At the last minute, Arndt demanded more money for his services than had been agreed upon and the other doctor had to accede. During his absence, Arndt severely criticized his absent colleague before the latter's patients, and advised one to sue the absent physician for malpractice. Arndt was called before a court of honor of his profession, a peculiarly German institution, and fined $75 for false and unprofessional conduct. He thereupon drew a revolver and opened fire. The presiding judge ducked beneath his desk, an example followed by every one else in the room, and Arndt's six shots went wild. He was overpowered and an investigation into his sanity will be made.

The other courtroom shooting took place during a suit of trifling importance at Hamburg. The defendant, a hotel keeper, opened fire from a revolver without warning, severely wounded two adverse witnesses and then blew out his own brains.

Bishop, Tex., Oct. 18.—Sale of the issue of $100,000 bonds issued by the Bishop independent road district for good roads has been effected and work on the construction of forty miles of macadam roads will be commenced immediately, under the supervision of County Commissioner John T. Bartlett of this precinct. An expert road engineer has been engaged to superintend the work. The bonds were purchased by F. Z. Bishop and the funds will be available at once for the big work.

Y.M.C.A. TO HOLD MOTHERS' DAY

DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED WHEN BUILDING IS COMPLETED.

JAP LECTURER WILL RETURN

Icyda to Give Travel Talk, "A Trip Through Japan"—Business Men's Class Growing.

A special day for the mothers of the boys who are in the boys' department of the association is being planned for the near future. Owing to the uncertainty as to when the building will be finished, this date cannot be announced at present, but will be announced later.

On October 24, at 8 p. m., in the gymnasium of the Young Men's Christian association, Mr. Icyda from Japan will give an illustrated lecture entitled, "A Trip Through Japan." More than 100 views of some of the most beautiful places in the world will be shown here and the hour will be of historical and educational interest. Dixie, the prodigy, son of Mr. Icyda, will take part also in the program. This youngster has astonished some of the most learned men in two continents with his wonderful memory and keen insight into difficult things. It will be remembered that Dixie is only 7 years old and has never been to school a day in his life. He can add numbers as fast as you can give them to him and can sketch the likeness of any person in a few minutes. With surprising readiness and fluency he reads and spells difficult phrases and words. After this program the boys' room and swimming pool will be open to visitors and a few thrilling and spectacular stunts will be performed by expert swimmers.

Different Classes.
The business men's class has grown so large that it will be run in several different sections in the future. At present one class will meet Tuesday evening at 6:15 and another at noon Tuesday.

A class for employed boys will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays at 6:15 p. m. This class promises to be one of the very best that will be in the boys' department.

In the senior class leagues will be formed Monday and several teams will be organized. All boys and young men who like this sport are invited to come out and join one of these classes. The Young Men's Christian association teams have always been good ones and much promising material will be given to swimming and there is no excuse why any boy should grow up and not know how to swim.

Boys' Reading Room.
The game room and reading room in connection with the boys' department has been crowded every afternoon since it has been opened. All the games and magazines have been in use and the boys have enjoyed the harmless pastime. The association does not believe that boys should be encouraged to leave their studies and duties and spend their nights in this amusement, and for this reason none except the working boys are admitted at night.

There is no time during the day when the boys are not under the leadership of the boys' secretary, Mr. Flowers, or Physical Director Few. The older boys are in the rooms three times each week and the younger ones two times each week. The boys' department is open for boys from 12 to 15 years old on Mondays and Fridays in the afternoon, for boys from 14 to 15 on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and for boys from 15 to 18 on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to make public recognition of our thanks and appreciation of the many courtesies extended us by our Waco friends during our recent bereavement.

LIFE SAVERS ALERT.
Strive to Get Their Names on the Shield for Rescues.

Members of the United States volunteer life-saving corps of Elizabeth, N. J., are on the alert every day in the week and every week in the year to make the shield.

This means that all are eager to get their names on a shield to be hung in the boys' department. There will be placed the names and records of members who save drowning persons, or who assist in rescues. The first name to go on the shield is that of Rodman Harrison, who helped to rescue Walter Barry.

Land drills and other exhibitions are given by the life-saving corps regularly to a large number of persons in Elizabeth, so that all may learn what to do when attempting to rescue someone from the water. These exhibitions include instructions on how to release the hold of a drowning person on its rescuer—a very important feature of the life saver's knowledge.

Mr. Terry says that he can assure all the patrons of this theatre that this series of pictures will be able to announce from time to time in the columns of the Waco Morning News the subject of his pictures in advance.

Crystal Theatre.

Marion Michelson's fascinating drama, "In the Bishop's Carriage," will be shown in motion pictures at the Crystal theatre Thursday, October 23. It is an intensely interesting and thrilling drama that approaches tragedy and ends in romance.

Mary Pickford, as Nance Olden, has captivated her thousands of admirers in this new role. It will be clever acting, perfect photography and superb settings in four massive parts.

Monday, October 20, at the Crystal, will be shown the three reel drama, "From the Beyond."

"From the Beyond" is a psychological drama, daring in its conception, which will undoubtedly create a tremendous stir and interest. Starting in its disclosures, it deals with the materialization of spirits—the photographing of them and suspended life—as it is practiced by the Hindus. In every fibre it is a modern treatise with unusually gripping dramatic situations, advancing nothing but what is well founded theory or fact in the world of science. Many are the extraordinary films that the Universal-Edison company have made. "Why?" was one of such a recent subject. "Some of a Soldier," another, and now comes this one, best of all.

Remodeling Belton Court House.

Belton, Tex., Oct. 18.—Owing to the condition of the Bell county court house, which is in the hands of workmen undergoing extensive alterations and repairs, the commissioners' court has made arrangements to utilize the auditorium of the Carnegie library for use of the district court of the Twenty-Seventh judicial district, which convenes November 3. The arrangements were made as the result of a request presented by the Bell County Bar association, which held a special meeting for the purpose of considering the matter.

Katie Foster Goes Free. Katie Foster, a negro woman, was acquitted by a jury in the Fifty-Fourth District court at noon yesterday of a charge of second degree murder. The jury reported within ten minutes after retiring to the deliberating room. The mind of each jurymen was evidently made up as to the innocence of the accused before he retired. The woman was charged with killing Lucias Hodges, a negro man. Hodges was shot and killed December 24, 1912. The defense contended that the shooting was an accident. Testimony was introduced to show that the woman and man were scuffling playfully for possession of the gun when it was discharged. One shot was fired, ending Hodges' life.

Mexican Held for Robbery. Emilio Aguilar, wanted for six months on a charge of robbery and indicted by the recent grand jury on that charge, was arrested Friday night by Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins. Aguilar is alleged, in connection with two other Mexicans, to have held up and robbed and afterwards beat up A. A. Clark of West. Clark was found in an unconscious condition near the Washington street bridge in December of last year. His watch and money were missing. Two arrests were made. Both have been convicted. The third man is alleged to be Aguilar.

None Reserved by Phone!

Telephone calls have been numerous this week, asking us to reserve Hoosier Cabinets and Hoosier club memberships until a family decision could be made. The amazing rapidity with which Hoosier Cabinets are being taken, makes it impossible for us to hold any more on approval.

We have accommodated our friends and customers in this manner to the limit of our resources, but now the cabinets are nearly all gone and membership is strictly limited by the Hoosier Company.

Please apply for your Hoosier Club Membership in person. The few memberships are going so fast that only early callers can avoid disappointment.

Don't Wait

You may have a Hoosier Cabinet delivered and set up ready for use tomorrow morning if you decide now.

A single dollar brings your cabinet—the dollar club membership fee that is part of the price.

No increase in cost above the low national cash price—balance payable in the dollar a week dues that pay for your cabinet so quickly.

This is your last chance this year to join. Four thousand Hoosier agents in 4,000 towns are organizing branches of the great national Hoosier club. Half a million women now own Hoosiers. Five hundred thousand more are waiting to get them.

The Hoosier is the only "lifetime" kitchen cabinet. It is a wonder of economy and convenience, and is sold so universally that the price can be made lower than on any other furniture.

The Hoosier company allots to each of its 4,000 agents a limited number of cabinets for sale on this liberal club plan this season, and our share is so nearly gone that tomorrow may see dozens of women disappointed.

Only Complete Cabinet

Every modern labor-saving machine for the kitchen has been tested by the Hoosier company to bring the Hoosier to its present perfection. It is the only scientifically built kitchen cabinet, and the only one that is complete as a labor-saving machine.

Imposing Monument Is Dedicated on Field of Battle of the Nations

Leipzig, Saxony, Oct. 18.—Thousands of people from all parts of Germany, Austria, Russia and Sweden gathered here today for the dedication of the memorial of the "Battle of the Nations," which ended just 100 years ago in a victory for the allies over the French and resulted in Germany's emancipation.

One of the features of the exercises was the arrival of the last runners in a series of relays bearing banners and greetings from every quarter of the German empire, and also from Washington and from Rio Janeiro. The banner from the United States passed through the hands of many thousand athletes before it reached the king of Saxony. In all the relays a total of 42,000 runners were engaged.

The monument was dedicated by the king of Saxony. The chief address was delivered by Wilhelm Clemens Thiele, chamberlain at the royal court of Saxony, to whose efforts the completion of the memorial was due. Standing near him were a number of foreign princes representing the rulers of the countries whose troops had formed parts of the victorious allied army.

Program Elaborate. The long program of festivities included services at the Austrian memorial to the commander of the allied army, Field Marshal Prince Carl Philip von Schwarzenberg. The ceremonies were notable even in this year of historic anniversaries in Germany.

The sovereigns of Austria, Russia, and Sweden, the nations that fought with Prussia to break the power of Napoleon in Germanic Europe, sent their personal representatives, and all the federated princes and mayors of the German empire were present. Their host is King Frederick August III of Saxony, sixth in line of direct descent from that King Frederick August I, who fought with Napoleon against the allies, whose troops deserted to the allies on the decisive day, and who himself, vainly appealing for terms, was taken to Berlin and kept a virtual prisoner for three years. The structure dedicated is today by far the largest and highest in Europe. It stands just south of Leipzig, near Probstheida, the village out of which the allies drove Napoleon on October 18, 1813, the decisive day of the "Battle of Nations." The fight had then raged for six days between the Austrians, Prussians, Russians and Swedes on the one side, and the French, aided by the Saxons and Wurttembergers on the other, when the deciding day came. On the following day Napoleon abandoned the contest, leaving behind 78,000 of his army of 180,000 men, 15,000 of them dead. The allies, at a loss of 51,000 from a total strength of about 200,000, had made Germany free from foreign domination to the banks of the Rhine.

Start Monument in 1863.

The idea of a monument on the battlefield was broached in the following year by Ernst Moritz Arndt, and found support from a number of prominent Germans and from a Russian diplomat. An organization was formed at Leipzig to keep alive the memory of the battle, but a king in captivity furnished grounds for abandoning the movement. The monument idea came up from time to time in the succeeding years, and in 1883, on the fiftieth anniversary of the battle, the foundation stone of a monument was laid.

Then came the wars of 1864, 1866 and 1870-71, and it remained for the German Patriots' Association, formed in Leipzig in 1894, to take the matter up and carry it to a successful conclusion. Four years later the necessary money had been raised, a design by Prof. Bruno Schmitz had been accepted, and the first sod was turned for the work on October 18, 1898.

The monument stands on a hill about 100 feet above the level of the surrounding country. It is approached by a flight of 110 steps hewn in granite. On the base of the monument at the head of the stairs is an imposing relief, 180 feet long and 60 feet wide, the work of Christian Behrens. In the center of the relief is a heroic figure of Saint Michael, on each side of him Furies with torches hover over a battlefield strewn with dead. Above in letters six feet high, is the motto of the anti-Napoleonic warriors: "Gott Mit Uns" (God with us).

300 Feet High. The monument rises to a height of nearly 300 feet. It is of reinforced concrete, faced with porphyry. On the ground level is a crypt, surrounded by eight gigantic stone masks, representing fate. In front of each mask stands two warriors, twice life size, holding the death watch. Above this crypt is a rotunda, enclosing the Hall of Fame. About the walls sit four figures, two male and two female, seven times life size. They represent Courage, Sacrifice, Exaltation and Relief. The figures are the work of Prof. Franz Metzner.

Around the outside of the domed cupola which surmounts the monument stands twelve gigantic warrior figures. The interior of three of them are occupied by winding stairs and an elevator, giving access to a balcony near the top of the monument.

One striking thing is noted in connection with all the statues; not one represents any prince or sovereign. The uprising against Napoleon in 1813 was an uprising of the people, not of their rulers, and the new monument is a monument of the people. There is not a personal note about it.

Tests made at the Maine experiment station indicate that hens do not transmit heredity factors to their daughters, but may transmit to their sons that factor which makes for high egg production, and that they can pass it on to their female descendants.

PEEVISH, CONSTIPATED CHILDREN LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

HARMLESS "FRUIT LAXATIVE" CLEANSSES STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or has feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomachache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in just a few hours all the foul, constirated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

NEW POLICIES ON ALL BUILDINGS

AMONG FOURTEEN AGEN-CIES IN WACO.

DETERMINED BY A COMMITTEE

Total of Insurance Aggregated $475,000, Including Boilers—Divided Into Classes.

All existing insurance policies on public school buildings and equipment in the city of Waco were cancelled on October 11. Subsequently, on October 14, forms for new policies were distributed and insurance on all buildings, including additions made to four buildings, the new North Waco school building and equipments for these structures, were rewritten.

This was the information obtained yesterday. The total amount of insurance written will aggregate $475,000 fire and approximately $50,000 boiler insurance. The insurance was prorated among fourteen agencies in the city, and the apportionment was made with reference to the age of the various agencies. The apportionment was determined by a committee composed of Adrian Moore, George Willig and R. Lyles, Jr. These were named as a committee by the insurance men of the city at a meeting some time ago, following the determination of the school board to place the matter in the hands of the insurance agents for adjustment.

In making the apportionment the fourteen agencies were divided into three classes. These were class A, B and C. Class A was the highest and received the highest amount of insurance. Class B came second in rank and also in amount and to class C was given the lesser amount. The pro rata apportionment figured approximately $43,750 to each agency in class A, between $21,875 and $25,000 to each agency in class B and from $8,000 to $10,000 to each agency in class C. This information is somewhat different from that given out Monday, October 13, when an effort was made to determine what amount of insurance on the public school buildings would be rewritten. On that date the statement was made by an employee of Superintendent J. C. Lattimore's office that insurance would only be written on improvements made during the year, and in a few instances where policies had expired or were about to expire. It was stated that the greater number of policies would not expire until 1914 and 1915. According to that statement insurance to the amount of approximately $50,000 was to be written at this time. This was on a $14,000 addition to the Sanger avenue school building, $45,000 on the new North Waco school building, $1000 on addition to Bell's Hill building, $1000 on Columbus street building, $2500 each on the two negro equipment for the additions and the one new building.

On the school buildings and about $5000 on the school buildings and the apportionment was made in compliance with the understanding of the committee as to the desire of the school board.

When asked in regard to the matter on October 13, Superintendent Lattimore said the matter was out of his hands and in the hands of the committee of insurance men. He said the board the previous year had adopted the plan of permitting the various agencies in the city to select a committee to distribute the insurance, and that he believed this was the plan for this year.

On the same date Mr. Moore of the committee said he was not prepared to discuss the matter, as his committee had not completed its work. He said the committee was to distribute the insurance according to their understanding of the desire of the school board.

Mr. Lyles yesterday said the apportionment was made on a basis of the length of time the agencies had been in business in Waco.

He explained this by a statement that the board desired to increase the amount of insurance held by the agencies. In order to properly apportion the insurance it was necessary to cancel outstanding insurance. As the older agencies had existing policies on their books it would

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

have been necessary in the case of a complete cancellation to have made a refund of the unexpired period and the period that had been covered would have been charged for at the short-term rate. But by renewing with these agencies for the full amounts, they had heretofore carried it was possible to place the insurance without an adjustment of the rate.

The E. W. Marshall & Co. agency was the only instance where a reduction in the amount of insurance was made. This company held something like $50,000 formerly. This came about by reason of the consolidation of two agencies during the year. Under the rewriting this agency was given class A position and insurance to the amount of $43,750. In all other cases insurance was raised. Under the rewriting J. H. Mackey & Co., whose head is Mayor J. H. Mackey, was given approximately $20,000 insurance.

With reference to the matter, Mayor Mackey said, "This is the only form of city insurance that I carry on my books. The schools are under a different department from any other, and are separate from any part of the city over which I have jurisdiction."

According to the information given out yesterday classification of agencies was made as follows:

In class A were placed the J. M. Killough agency, Hays Bros., West & Seary, Walter V. Fort & Co., George Willig & Co., E. W. Marshall & Co., Friedlander & Luedde and Moore & Moore.

In class B were placed W. H. Davis & Co., J. H. Mackey & Co. and Charles A. Weathered & Co.

In class C were placed P. Jack Sanger agency, W. A. Stovall & Co. and T. B. Dockery & Co.

It is also understood that the amounts apportioned to the various agencies were approximately as follows:

George Willig & Co., $43,750.
E. W. Marshall & Co., $43,750.
Friedlander & Luedde, $43,750.
Moore & Moore, $43,000.
J. M. Killough, $38,000.
Hays Bros., $25,625 on fire insurance; all boiler insurance, amounting to $50,000.
West & Seary, $43,000.
Walter V. Fort & Co., $43,000.
W. H. Davis & Co., $21,875.
J. H. Mackey & Co., $20,000.
Charles A. Weathered & Co., about $20,000.
P. Jack Sanger, about $5700.
T. B. Dockery & Co., $5741.
W. A. Stovall & Co., $5741.

The committee has not made its report to the school board and until it does the correct figures will not be made public. This report will probably be made Monday.

Insurance on school buildings is written for a term of three years.

Man Believed to Be John McGrath of Colorado Fatally Stricken in City Hall Square.

Seized with an attack of coughing which is believed to have brought on a hemorrhage, a man believed to be John McGrath of Colorado died yesterday afternoon before he could be conveyed to a hospital. The attack came on while the man was standing in city hall square.

Assistance was immediately rendered and he was started in an ambulance for the hospital. He died en route. Justice J. J. Padgett was called to hold an inquest.

A Stranger in Distress.
The justice searched the effects of the man and found a letter written to John McGrath from Pottsville, Col., which had been received at Trinidad, Col. A petition which testified that the bearer was a sufferer of lung trouble, which called for financial aid, was also among the effects. The letter and the petition were the only means of identification. The man was about 40 or 35 years of age. His death was evidently caused from a hemorrhage caused from lung affection.

WANTS NAVAL HOLIDAY

LORD CHURCHILL WANTS CESSATION OF SHIPBUILDING BY TWO COUNTRIES.

Proposes Germany Rest and Britain Would Do the Same for a Time.

London, Oct. 18.—The invitation to Germany to indulge in a "naval holiday" was repeated today by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, who in the name of the British government made a specific offer to delay the fulfillment of Great Britain's naval construction program next year if Germany would consent to do the same.

The first lord was addressing a great liberal meeting at Manchester when, in the midst of lamentation "over the serious misdirection of human energies" involved in the enormous expenditure on armaments he remarked that the only way of effecting entrenchment was along the lines of an international agreement. He added:

"The proposal I put forward in the name of the British government for a naval holiday is quite simple. Next year apart from the Canadian ships or their equivalent and apart from anything that may be required by any development in the Mediterranean we shall lay down four great ships to Germany's two. Now we say to Germany:

"If you will put off beginning to build your two ships for twelve months we will put off in absolute good faith the building of our four ships for exactly the same period."

"If Great Britain and Germany take the lead all other great countries will follow suit and they will all be just as great as at present."

"Isn't it likely that so great and memorable an event would interest Japan? Scores of millions of money would be rescued for the progress of mankind?"

"That is the proposal I make for the year 1914 or if that year is thought to be too near, for 1915."

Mr. Churchill declared himself impervious to the objections which would be raised by armament firms here and in other countries. "They must be our servants and not our masters," he said.

He warned his hearers that apart from such an agreement "the naval expenditure of next year will be substantially greater than that of this year. Whatever may be necessary for the safety of our country and the maintenance of our influence over all the world will have to be done."

"The fact that the situation in Europe is much clearer now than it has been for some time, the strong evidence of a desire for peace and the greatly improved relations between Great Britain and Germany render the moment favorable for the resumption of the consideration of the suggestion of a naval holiday to which friendly reference was made in a speech by the German imperial chancellor."

The fire is said to have started in a paint shop on the second floor of the building on the corner of Seventh and Main.

Mother Thinks Son Out West While He Is Serving a Term

Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 18.—An aged mother greeted her son here tonight with tears of joy over what she believed was his "return from the West." Ignorant of the fact that he had been in prison for the last two years, she is Mrs. Mary Gartner, aged 86. In January, 1911, her son, Nolan L. Gartner, was sentenced to serve six years in the penitentiary for making false entries in the books of the Kingston bank, which failed.

Fearing knowledge of his sentence would cause his aged mother's death, relatives concealed it from her. She is too old to read and care was taken that she should not hear through the neighbors of the trial. The son told her he was going West to work for an insurance company when he left home to go to the penitentiary and she helped him pack his trunk for the "long journey." Regularly during the past two years he has written her "from the West" and though the letters were written on prison letter-heads, she didn't know it, for they were read to her. Now relatives declare she shall never learn the truth. Gartner was paroled yesterday. Several positions of responsibility have been offered him.

Surrender Aigrettes. New York, Oct. 18.—Customs inspectors report that since the new regulation preventing the importation of aigrettes into this country took effect a week ago, twelve women arriving from Europe have voluntarily surrendered to the government the plumes they brought with them. Inspectors have not yet found it necessary to ruthlessly tear feathers from hats. In most cases the women who gave up their plumes said they were only imitations. In four cases women swore the aigrettes were purchased in this country and in the instances the feathers were returned to their owners. In eight of the cases the feathers have been kept by the government and are still in the public stores.

Stabbing at Shreveport. Shreveport, La., Oct. 18.—George French, a machinist, was cut in the groin and fatally wounded tonight during a fight with Ben Gillespie, a carpenter. The two were joint tenants of a house and a quarrel arose over French's relations with a woman who was living with him. French bled to death from a severed artery.

PUBLICITY FOR THE CHURCH

Episcopal House of Deputies Passes Resolution to Establish Bureau.

New York, Oct. 18.—The Protestant Episcopal church will establish a publicity bureau if the house of bishops approves a resolution adopted by the house of deputies here this afternoon providing for such a bureau. The resolution was introduced today at the general convention of the church by Charles M. Clement of the diocese of Harrisburg, Pa.

At an executive session of the house of bishops, Bishop J. M. Francis of Indianapolis and Edward Wm. Osborne of Springfield, Ill., decided to reconsider their resignations. They will continue at their posts.

The house of deputies today refused by a close vote to accept a recommendation that a final court of appeals to determine questions of doctrine, faith and worship affecting the clergy be established. This means the church will make no change for at least three years in methods of judging heresy charges.

Lumber Co. Wins Suit. Jackson, Miss., Oct. 18.—The case of the state of Mississippi against Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago of many months' standing, was decided today in favor of the lumber company. The suit was brought under the state law that no foreign corporation shall own more than $2,000,000 worth of property in the state. The attorney general alleged that the Hines company owned $5,000,000 worth of property in Mississippi and notice of appeal was given. The company held the law unconstitutional as applying to foreign corporations.

Wilson Has Outing. Washington, Oct. 18.—President Wilson climbed the hills of the golf links in wind and rain today and came back to the white house aglow with color. He smiled at stories that he had been in ill health.

The president had a slight attack of indigestion last week, but entirely recovered from it.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking it occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

FREIGHT TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Four Killed and One Injured on Highway Crossing at Laporte, Indiana.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 18.—Four persons were killed and one probably fatally hurt near here late today when an automobile driven by Edwin W. Schurz, treasurer of a piano company, was struck by a Pierre Marquette freight train.

The accident happened at what is known as the most dangerous grade crossing in Northern Indiana. The dead are:

Mrs. Edwin W. Schurz, Mrs. Fannie P. Heinze and Mrs. Carleton Schafer, all of Laporte, and Mrs. Wm. Brace, Washington, D. C.

Edwin W. Schurz was so seriously injured it is believed he cannot survive.

At the place of the accident the highway crosses the railroad tracks through a deep cut.

Schurz was driving at moderate speed, but failed to see a train, the engine of which was pushing a box car ahead. The box car struck the machine department. Schurz was thrown out clear of the track, but the four women were dashed under the train. Mrs. Schurz's body being cut in two. Mrs. Brace was the wife of a Washington druggist. All the other victims of the accident were prominent socially in this city.

FLEET MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Smash Half Dozen Targets for Education of the Secretary of War.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 18.—After smashing half a dozen targets and treating Secretary Daniels and a number of other department officials to a samplings of American marksmanship, the Atlantic fleet is riding peacefully at anchor tonight, some on the southern drill grounds, others in Hampton Roads.

Secretary Daniels and party arrived this morning on the president's yacht Mayflower. They were met by the battleships Arkansas, Utah and Wyoming and escorted to sea, where the target practice was held. In the Washington party were Secretary and Mrs. Daniels, Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Roosevelt, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Secretary of War Garrison and a number of ladies and department officials.

It was cloudy and hazy at sea and targets were with difficulty distinguished at long distances, but despite this the gunners smashed several of the targets. The visitors witnessed the practice from the deck of the battleship Rhode Island.

Tonight there was torpedo practice. Secretary Daniels expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the showing made by the gunners.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP TRAIN

Detectives Have Description of Man Believed to Be Guilty of Dynamiting.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 18.—Detectives were working today on clues in connection with an attempt at Copper City in the copper strike district this morning to blow up a Keweenaw Central passenger train which was carrying forty-two miners and guards to the Mohawk mine and eighteen passengers to various Keweenaw county points.

The officers have a description of a man who is said to have lighted the fuse to a charge of dynamite which exploded and tore up a section of the track just as the engineer stopped his train a short distance from the spot.

Mounted troops drove back several hundred strikers who had surrounded the train and the mine guards were escorted to Mohawk. As the Copper City affair involves interference with transportation of mails it will be made the subject of a report to the post-office department and it is said a statement will be made.

Stop Clairvoyant "Trust." Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 18.—With the arrest here today of "Old Doctor Russell" and his wife, Louise, clairvoyants, said to be wanted in Chicago upon indictments in connection with the so-called "clairvoyant trust," Chicago detectives declared that wholesale fraud would be charged against the pair.

The clairvoyants' trust is alleged to have taken a toll of a half million dollars in Cook county before its members scattered to various parts of the country.

The Satisfaction That Comes From Owning the Mehlin

To know that the Piano that stands in your home will be admired by every musician who tries it is gratifying to you as the owner.

To know that your choice is approved by such famous artists as Sousa and Patti is a still further source of satisfaction.

The recognition that the greatest musicians in the world are according to the Mehlin Piano is evidence that it possesses something which other pianos lack.

Throughout the Mehlin's half century of existence it has won numerous honors, but never was the consensus of opinion in the musical world so emphatically in its favor as at the present day.

Recent Mehlin models, typifying the highest development of the modern pianoforts are here for your inspection.

and all the countries to the Panama canal. Intervention would be all right if we stayed there all the time, but it would be bad for our morals and pocketbooks.

Discussing the Madero regime, Mr. Wilson said that eighty-four Americans had been killed in Mexico and not one murder had been punished and that six months prior to the overthrow of Madero the entire country wanted it yet the death of the two Maderos seems to have agitated the United States government more than the murder of the Americans.

Regarding the part he took in bringing about the making of Huerta provisional president, Mr. Wilson said Huerta and Diaz factions were in the capitol and ready to renew the bombardment and that "while I was not so instructed, I took immediate action to prevent it. No act of mine rendered such valuable services to Americans or foreigners in my entire career, yet the administration at Washington called my act an intrusion into the policies of the country."

Photos as Posses.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 18.—Several days ago an order was issued in Nuevo Laredo by General Teles, commander of the northern military zone, prohibiting any one entering Nuevo Laredo without a pass signed by the military authorities. Today the order was revoked and all passes recalled. A new order demands that each applicant send two photographs of himself, one of which will be retained in the office of the military commander and the other be pasted on the pass.

Parade With Head on Pole.

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 18.—The ancient custom of heralding victory by making public demonstrations with the heads of the conquered was revived at Puerto, Sinaloa, at the time of its occupation by the rebels two weeks ago, according to stories told here today by travelers.

After the invasion of Puerto, the story runs, Yaqui Indians pursued the retreating federal army and captured among others, Prefecto Torres, a federal commander. The Indians put him to death and returned with his head, parading it about the streets on a pole. Torres, it is said, had threatened to execute any constitutionalists who fell into his hands.

WACO HIGH PLAYS TIE WITH MARLIN

BOTH TEAMS ARE DANGEROUS AT TIMES, BUT NEITHER ABLE TO SCORE.

WACO WORKS FORWARD PASS

A Rally in Final Quarter Carries Ball to Marlin's Ten-Yard Line.

Marlin, Oct. 18.—Marlin high school played Waco high to a scoreless tie this afternoon on a muddy field, keeping the Waco boys on the defense for the early part of the game, but weakening toward the last, when the visitors rushed the ball the Marlin's ten-yard line, and were prevented from scoring only by the fact that time expired. The most dangerous time for Waco was in the first stage of the game, when Marlin received the initial kick-off, and by a series of line battles fought to Waco's fifteen yard line. Here the visitors developed a stone-wall defense, and Marlin was thrown back, never again threatening to score. Everything was Waco's in the final quarter, when the visitors made a succession of beautiful forward passes and had the home team fighting constantly in its own territory.

Among the features of the game were the tackling of Miller and Torrence, and the fast tackle over tackle line plunges of Brown of the Waco team. The Waco team was badly crippled before going into the game.
Captain Oates, Quarterback Vick and Guard Etchison, all of the regular lineup, being out of the play.

Cornell 10, Bucknell 7.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Long gains by forward passes enabled Bucknell to cross Cornell goal today although the red and white triumphed by a score of 10 to 7. Cornell scored in the first period when Halfback Fritz took the ball around Bucknell's right wing for thirty-five yards and a touchdown. In the second period Bucknell tied the score when with the ball on Cornell's thirty-five yard line Quarterback Cruikshank made a beautiful forward pass to Plam who carried it across. In the third period, standing on Bucknell's thirty-five yard line, Barrett sent a clean drop of the cross bar.

"Jack" O'Hearn saved the game for Cornell in the final period when on Cornell's ten yard line he interrupted a pass and ran the ball back to mid-field.

Army 7, Colgate 6.

West point, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The army defeated Colgate here today after a hard fight 7 to 6. The visitors were strong both on the offense and defense and scored early in the second quarter when Robinson, halfback, got through the line for a sixty yard run to a touchdown.

The army was played to a standstill until the last five minutes when Quarterback Prichard started a series of clever forward passes and soon had the ball on Colgate's ten yard line.
The cadets lost it there when a forward pass went wrong and Abel punted to Prichard on the enemy's forty-five yard line. Prichard ran fifty-five yards for the touchdown and

Wynne, left tackle; Jones, right guard and fullback; quarterback, and Hobbs at fullback, played star football for the army.

Harvard 47, Holy Cross 7.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 18.—For the first time this year a football foe crossed the Harvard goal line today, but while the Holy Cross team accomplished this feat through a muffed punt, they were overwhelmed 47 to 7.
The game was scarcely a minute old when Fredley let a Holy Cross punt go through his fingers. Donovan, Holy Cross fullback, gathered up the ball and dashed across the line.
Brawley, center, kicked the ball to Mahan, Harvard halfback, kicked two goals from the field one from the thirty-five yard line and the other from the fifty-five yard line. Hardwick, halfback, made two runs of forty-five and twenty-five yards each, and Coolidge, right end, took a forward pass for a touchdown.

Vanderbilt 33, Henderson-Brown 0.
Nashville, Oct. 18.—Vanderbilt defeated Henderson-Brown college of Arkansas by a score of 33 to 0 this afternoon. The game was played on a slippery field. Vanderbilt was able to make but one touchdown during the first half but added two more in the third period and another in the fourth.
Boesch also kicked two field goals from difficult angles. The visitors' offense was weak, but they played fiercely upon the defense and Vanderbilt was forced to fight for every inch gained. Boesch's work at quarter was a feature, while E. Brown for Vanderbilt also played in good style.
Vanderbilt used many substitutes during the second half, saving their regulars for the game with Michigan next Saturday.

Yale 37, Lehigh 0.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 18.—Yale defeated Lehigh here today 37 to 0.
Lehigh started strong when Quarterback Chenoweth ran back the kickoff for twenty-five yards. The Yale line was invincible after that, however, and the Blue ends frequently broke up forward passing. Both sides resorted to punting with the exchanges mostly in Yale's favor. Lehigh's achievement today was holding Yale for downs on the one yard line.

Brann, a new man at end, and Wilson at fullback, played the best game for Yale. Captain Flick of Lehigh, sustained a broken collarbone in the first period.

Princeton 13, Syracuse 0.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 18.—Syracuse proved to be a good defensive eleven against Princeton today, but poor on the aggressive and Princeton won a 13 to 0 victory. The visitors showed a healthy mixture of trick plays, but the team failed to put most of them into action against the Tigers for consecutive gains.

Frequent penalties in which Princeton was the offender more often than Syracuse robbed Princeton of two touchdowns. The ball was brought back on the field for play after the Tigers had carried it across in two instances because of illegal work by the Princeton players.

Navy 29, Dickinson 0.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 18.—Navy continued its winning streak this afternoon, defeating Dickinson 29 to 0. The visitors put up a stiff defense during the first half but in the two final periods the fearful hammering of the navy navy line and backfield wore them completely out.

Chicago 23, Iowa 6.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Chicago beat Iowa in their annual game, 23 to 6, here this afternoon. Iowa showed unexpected strength and after the first half held Chicago on even terms. Chicago relied upon straight football, using forward passes only three times, while Iowa used their entire reserve fund of tricks.

Illinois 37, Northwestern 0.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 18.—The University of Illinois easily won from Northwestern today 37 to 0. The visitors seemed in poor physical condition and their efforts were fruitless to menace the Illinois goal.

POLY DEFEATS TRINITY

FORT WORTH ELEVEN OUTPLAYS AND OUTGENERALS WAXA-HACHIE TEAM.

Game Played in Front of the Steel Grand Stand at Dallas Fair.

Dallas, Oct. 18.—Outgeneralled, even more than the score indicates, Polytechnic College of Fort Worth this afternoon defeated Trinity University's (Waxahachie) football team at Fair Park by the score of 12 to 0. Both teams were evenly matched in weight, but the lack of experience of several of Trinity's men was responsible for the defeat.

The game was played in front of the steel grand stand in the State Fair grounds. Each team was cheered by many supporters of the two institutions here to attend the state fair, it being college day.

Poly scored its first touchdown in the third quarter. After working the ball to Trinity's 25-yard line, White received a forward pass from Tandy and ran through open field for the score. In the fourth quarter Poly scored another touchdown by Shook's 3-yard run around and after receiving a forward pass from Tandy.
Poly's goal was in danger several times.

The line-up:
Trinity—Position. Poly.

KAISER HAS HALL OF SHELLS.

New Palace at Potsdam Contains Many Other Marvels.

An English traveler who has recently returned from Berlin gives an interesting account in one of the local papers of his visit to the new palace of the kaiser at Potsdam.

There are many things which make the palace interesting to the privileged visitor, not the least among which is the kitchen, which stands in a separate building. Frederick the Great hated the smells of the kitchen and he had that most necessary adjunct to every household moved away from the palace. The eatables were consistently underground passage. Emperor William still keeps up the custom of his predecessor.

The dining room of the palace is small, as palace dining rooms go, and contains some very valuable paintings, but for formal events and even for family affairs, since the kaiser's family is getting to be so large, the great marble hall upstairs is used. Three hundred can dine at one time in this hall. Here have gathered nearly all the sovereigns of Europe, and on those occasions huge candles are used for lighting, instead of the more modern electric light.

Other rooms of interest are the knisese smoking room, to which some wonderful vases have recently been added, the gift of a visiting Chinese prince. The private theatre of the palace holds about 350 persons and his stage is arranged to produce all the latest scenic effects. The kaiser prefers light comedy and this is the kind of entertainment he gives his guests.

The most interesting apartment in the entire palace, however, is undoubtedly the Hall of Shells. The room is most beautiful, its walls adorned with thousands of shells of all kinds. They have been arranged definitely in charming patterns, while other shells in grottoes give a wonderful effect when lighted by electricity.

It was in this room that Colonel Roosevelt, when ex-president of the United States, was entertained by the kaiser. The famous imperial Christmas tree is set up in this room.

The kaiser has his own railway station at Wildpark, which is only a short distance from the palace.

Looking 20 Years Younger- and Other Beauty Secrets

The Eradication of Wrinkles Assured. Miss Suratt, Self-Made Beauty-Queen of the American Stage, Reveals Some of Her Beauty Secrets.

By Valeska Suratt.

I USED to look upon a wrinkle much as the drying of an apple-skin foretells inevitably the passing of youth that can never again return. Since I have worked out for myself the problem of ridding myself of these check-marks of nature's bookkeeper—I have changed my mind. Like a splash of a pebble in a pond, the face of the water is ruffled, many ripples widen toward the shore, and disappear, and the water reflects the sun and the blue sky again as before—it was just a splash—nothing more.

My dear readers, there is little excuse now for the presence of wrinkles even in women in a late middle age. The results of my formula have indeed proved this to be the case. I want every woman to try this formula, use it constantly, and then, your face will reflect again the sunshine of youth as before—and every wrinkle will be just a vanishing ripple—nothing more.

For wrinkles, deep lines and sagging cheeks: In a large bowl, pour half a pint of hot water, not boiling water. Place this bowl in a pan of water on a slow fire. In a few minutes add two ounces of glycerine and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When it does this, remove from the fire, add slowly two tablespoonfuls of glycerine, and stir constantly until cold. Keep in air-tight jar. You should be able to get epiglott at any good drug store and it should not cost you more than fifty cents.

Rub in well until the cream disappears. This cream will not grow hair.

OCTAVIA—The face can surely be made as pure, spotless and white as the most exquisite rose petal. This formula will do it.

Let half a pint of water come almost to a boil. Add two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding one ounce of zintone, until it is all dissolved. Then let cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin it down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. Rub on the entire face liberally. Let it dry on the face, repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will sell you an ounce of zintone for not more than fifty cents.

MRS. BALDY—Yes, you can have at the age of 60 as beautiful hair as when you were a girl. The following mixture liberally used also will stop your hair falling absolutely. Your hair will grow wonderfully.

Mix together one-half pint of alcohol, a half pint of water and one ounce of beta-quinol. You may use imported bay rum instead of the water and alcohol. If you wish. Shake thoroughly and apply generously on the scalp every few days, rubbing it in well with the finger tips. Any good druggist will let you have the beta-quinol for not more than fifty cents. As a hair tonic, too, it is unsurpassed. Also ask for my shampoo. I never use soap on my hair. I dissolve one teaspoonful of eggol in half a cup of warm water. When entirely dissolved and the solution has become lukewarm, I pour onto the hair and shampoo in the usual manner. It makes an exquisite lather. After rubbing it well into the scalp so it is perfectly clean, I wash the hair thoroughly with plenty of warm water, and rinse with cold water. The druggist will let you have the eggol for not more than twenty-five cents.

LIP HAIR—I don't wonder at your existing with depilatories. I use simple suito solution which will cost you one dollar at the drug store. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair you want removed. Keep the hair moist with it until it has dissolved. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm, damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water.

Valeska Suratt.

HELEN A. T.—In one week I got rid of a very embarrassing stage of facial eruptions, with this formula: Dissolve twelve ounces of granulated sugar in one-half pint of water and add one ounce of sarsaparilla, and mix the whole together thoroughly. Then add more water to make a pint. Sarsaparilla is liquid which you can get at the drug store by the ounce. Get it in the original package. Take one or two teaspoonfuls of this mixture through or four times a day, with a little water if desired. This is absolutely safe.

ASHAMED—You can get rid of blackheads by continuing the use of this excellent article. There is no other way. It is impossible to squeeze out all the smaller blackheads.

First wash the face with hot water and soap. Then sprinkle some nioxin gently upon a sponge made as with hot water. Then rub well for a few minutes on the parts of the skin which are affected with blackheads. This done, bathe the face with warm water and dry. The nioxin will cost you not to exceed fifty cents at any drug store.

ELIZA R. F.—Your age does not matter. For bust development use this simple formula which I have perfected. In a half pint of hot water dissolve two ounces of ruetone and half a cup of sugar, all well mixed together. Of this, take 2 teaspoonfuls three or four times a day. This gives a warm, after your meals. This gives astonishing results in a short time. The ruetone you can get at the drug store for one dollar.

deportation from the United States of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, coming on top of the publicly announced defection of Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence from all forms of militancy, has caused consternation among the militant suffragettes here. The headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political union were open tonight, but only members of the rank and file reported. In the absence of officials, they refused to talk for publication. They did not attempt to conceal their anxiety, however.

The famous war cabinet of the militant organization has been scattered by illness and prison bars. "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond is seriously ill. Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Kerr and Mrs. Saunders are in jail, while others are absent in the country. Not an official could be found tonight to take charge and the cohorts gathered to learn if they could assist in any way their leader now in the United States. Miss Amy Maud Hicks, who has served several terms in jail for window breaking and "obstruction," said:

"I am greatly surprised that the American immigration authorities should take action which would tend to make the United States equally with England, the laughing stock of the civilized world as regards the treatment of militants, but I confidently expect that the American suffragettes will make such a protest as will lead to the rescinding of the deportation order."

At a meeting tonight presided over by the bishop of Kensington and attended by leaders of all shades of opinion except adherents of the Woman's Social and Political union, Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence were spoken of in connection with the calling off of old scores in an effort to organize all branches of suffragettes. The new campaign will be on entirely new lines without a hint of the violent methods which were formerly favored. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence were forced out of the Woman's Social and Political union by Mrs. Pankhurst and her daughters several months ago, but continued their advocacy of militancy until today.

The bishop of Kensington hinted that the church was now ready to become a positive force and would back up the women's movement, conducted on the new lines.

Miss Mae Scott-Troy of San Francisco said:

"I know positively that the British government sent an intimation to Washington that it desired Mrs. Pankhurst kept out. To be imprisoned in England does not necessarily involve Parnell was imprisoned here, but Edwards was quite warmly welcomed in America."

"To deport Mrs. Pankhurst would be illogical and absurd."

Chicago Suffragettes Protest.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Chicago suffragettes of all factions forgot their differences and at a hurriedly called mass meeting united in a protest against denying Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst admission to the United States.

Some of them were in tears as they expressed their disapproval of the action of the immigration authorities and after a number of strong speeches had been made a resolution of protest was adopted and telegraphed to President Wilson. A message of sympathy was sent Mrs. Pankhurst at Ellis Island. It was announced that a temporary bureau would be established to keep moving to Washington organizations treating of the English suffragette.

"Mrs. Pankhurst could have a just and dignified hearing," asserted Miss Jane Adams, chairman of the meeting.

"I am convinced that the admission of Mrs. Pankhurst cannot involve the 'honor' movement," said Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools. "I cannot conceive of any difficulty between her and the government over her entrance into this country."

PROF. T. U. TAYLOR ON STAND

Says McCormick of Underground Construction Feared "Having to Kill" Board Member.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 18.—Prof. T. U. Taylor, dean of the engineering department of the University of Texas, and a former member of the board of engineers for the West Fork reservoir, testified this morning in the W. J. George trial that in July, 1912, Charles McCormick, president of the Underground Construction company, gave as a reason for not coming to Fort Worth that he was hot-tempered and that if he came here he would have to kill John B. Hawley, a member of the board.

Prof. Taylor also testified that McCormick wrote to him suggesting the employment of Prof. Taylor in regard to other prospective Texas work, while Prof. Taylor was a member of the board of engineers. Prof. Taylor did not reply to the letter and said that McCormick never mentioned it again. His testimony went back to the beginning of the dam proposition and the employment of the board of engineers.

leaders, who were convicted under the same act of parliament under which they were convicted, were received here with open arms, although their destroyed property and were guilty of acts of a political nature and were convicted by parliament for them."

I have made speeches urging riot and rebellion and the destruction of property when necessary," the minutes quote her as saying. "I always have urged that care be taken against the destruction of human life."

After questioning ended and the newspaper men were permitted to talk with her, Mrs. Pankhurst was quick to register her objection to "star chamber proceedings."

As to the decision of the board she said: "Who is responsible for the action taken by the special board in ordering me deported? I am of the opinion it was done by our political opponents on the other side. I think the minds of the members of the board were made up before they arrived here. The board refused to let me make explanations. They interrupted me on almost every word excepting that which I said about the grounds of moral turpitude."

"I told them they certainly were prejudiced."

Visitors Not Allowed.

Suffragettes went to Ellis Island this afternoon to talk to Mrs. Pankhurst, but were informed the island was officially closed for the day. Herbert Reeves, Mrs. Pankhurst's counsel, spent the latter part of the day consulting authorities and left tonight for Washington, where he expects to consult with Commissioner General Caminetti tomorrow.

Mrs. Pankhurst's coming has stirred up women suffrage circles here as few incidents in the history of the suffrage movement have done. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont did not appear actively in the case today.

Mrs. Mary G. Hay, president of the woman's suffrage party in this city, declared:

"We are in no sense militants and in sympathy with Mrs. Pankhurst's ideas. She, moreover, came to this country entirely on her own initiative and without any invitation from the women's suffrage party in America. We deplore the action of the United States representatives, however, because it gives Mrs. Pankhurst a lot of undue notoriety and advertising."

Action Immediate.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was ordered deported by the immigration authorities within a little more than three hours after the vessel upon which she came had docked.

The special board of inquiry which decided her case intended to admit her to the country under bond, but to send her back to France forthwith.

Mrs. Pankhurst's lawyer, Herbert Reeves, announced his intention of appealing the case immediately to Commissioner General Caminetti. Pending the decision Reeves said he would see to it that his client admitted to this country under bond so that she may be able to fulfill her engagement to speak at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the New York woman suffrage leader, who was to have been Mrs. Pankhurst's host, was prepared to give bond up to $100,000 for Mrs. Pankhurst's good behavior while in America.

Bond Not Allowed.

Under the ruling of the special board, she will not be permitted to do so, and Mrs. Pankhurst must remain at Ellis Island until deported unless the board's findings are reversed by Washington authorities.

Mrs. Pankhurst's deportation was ordered under section two of the immigration law. This section provides for the exclusion of persons convicted abroad of crimes involving turpitude. The board held that Mrs. Pankhurst's conviction in England of conspiracy to commit arson brought her within this class.

The militant leader was interrogated by immigration inspectors on board the liner Provencien, which she came from Havre, then was rushed in a tug to the detention station at Ellis Island and taken immediately before the special board of inquiry. Her examination by this board lasted a little over an hour and she was not represented by counsel.

Mrs. Pankhurst told the immigration officials her purpose in coming to America was not to advocate the militant method for obtaining suffrage, but to lecture upon the history and progress of the cause in England.

Mr. Reeves filed his appeal by long-distance telephone with Commissioner General Caminetti and announced that the commissioner general would hear the case tomorrow. Mr. Reeves said he would leave for Washington tonight, taking with him a copy of the minutes of the special board.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF--25 CENT DANDERINE

HAIR COMING OUT? IF DRY, THIN, FADED, BRING BACK ITS COLOR AND LUSTRE.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scruffy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

FOUR KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Switch Engine Strikes Machine in New Orleans—One Is Dying.

New Orleans, Oct. 18.—Four persons were killed and one is dying at Charity hospital tonight as the result of an accident when a Terminal company switch engine drawing a string of cars, crashed into an automobile at City Park avenue and Terminal crossing, containing the family of Samuel Jerolman, Sr., a flour manufacturer.

The dead:
Samuel Jerolman, Sr., aged 46.
Mrs. Mary Guiterrez, mother of Mrs. Jerolman.

Samuel Close, chauffeur.

The Jerolman is not expected to live.

The car had just been purchased and Close, with Jerolman seated by him, was demonstrating the merits of the car. There are no gates at the crossing and the locomotive struck the automobile squarely, dragging it and its human freight three hundred feet before it could be stopped.

Mrs. Jerolman's body was dragged from beneath the firebox of the engine, where it was being incinerated. The head of Mrs. Guiterrez was severed.

Young Jerolman was also instantly killed, evidently by injuries to the skull. Close was rescued alive from the automobile, which was completely demolished, but died soon afterward.

The engineer and fireman were arrested. The engineer said the car approached from the fireman's side of the engine.

Redman Law Again Hurt.

New York, Oct. 18.—Rodman Law, who frequently has been hurt while performing unique feats of aviation, was injured again today when he dived from a flying boat into Staten Island waters. He was taken to a hospital, where he was treated for a head wound and a broken arm.

Against Segregation.

New York, Oct. 18.—Segregation does not segregate. Regulation does not regulate, but rather gives a false security. Absolute annihilation is the ideal. The Rev. Dr. W. T. Sumner, dean of the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul of Chicago, in an address at a social service mass meeting here tonight.

"Too long we have approached this business from the supply side," he said. "It is time to discuss it from the demand side."

Wants Stricter Insurance Laws.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—At the closing session here today of the fire prevention convention a resolution advocating stricter national and state insurance laws, the licensing of fire insurance brokers, agents and adjusters and the writing of policies in more understandable terms was adopted. A committee will decide later on the next meeting place.

"77" COLDS

A hard stubborn Cold that hangs on, is broken up by Humphreys' "Seventy-seven"

Cold houses, cold offices, cold churches or places of amusement, before the artificial heat is turned on, are the most prolific causes of catching cold.

A vial of "Seventy-seven" in the pocket is the nearest thing to a self heater, because a dose taken at the first call or shiver will either prevent or break up the Cold at once.

If you wait until your bones begin to ache; till you begin to cough and sneeze, it may take longer.

"Seventy-seven" is a small vial of pleasant pellets, fits the vest pocket, 25c and $1.00. All drug stores or mailed.

NEW DEVICE TO REGULATE TRAFFIC

SEMAPHORE TO REGULATE TRAFFIC

A semaphore device has been tried in Philadelphia for regulating traffic. The idea is pronounced a complete success.

Instead of the noisy whistle in use heretofore the signal shown in the illustration stops traffic. When the arm is extended over the roadway traffic must stop. The policeman stands at the base of the signalling device and by pulling a lever halts or starts traffic.

The word "closed" on the arm can be seen a block away. While working the lever the policeman, confident that the drivers can see it, can keep an eye on conditions about him.

Coal Company Answers.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—The Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, one of the defendants in the suit recently instituted in the United States court in this city to dissolve the so-called "hard coal trust," today filed its answer in which it denied any community of interest with the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, the Reading company and other corporations named in the litigation. The company admits it constructed, owns and formerly operated the Lehigh and Susquehanna railroad and that it owns and controls lands in the Lehigh region from which it annually produces 3,700,000 tons.

As a smoker ascends to higher altitudes his desire for tobacco decreases.

EYE TONIC LENS

This is the Name of a Recently Invented Eyeglass Lens Which Will be Introduced for the First Time in Waco by Dr. W. B. Georgia & Co. Will Give Away Solid Gold Pair of Glasses and Season Ticket to Cotton Palace for Best Advertisement Submitted.

Here is our advertising contest that we are putting on this year previous to the opening of the Cotton Palace. We are going to introduce and demonstrate to the visitors of this exposition a newly invented Eyeglass Lens, which is far superior to anything yet offered to persons suffering with eye errors. This lens, which has been given the name of "Eyetonic Lens," is said to be the most perfect glass that was ever invented and as near to optical perfection as science and skill could make it. It produces eye rest that no other lens can possibly do. For these lenses exclude the ultra violet rays, which produce more eye disturbances and blindness than any other cause.

Have you not seen people who would squint their eyes and wrinkle their foreheads the minute they stepped in the sunlight, even though they wore glasses? The reason for this squinting is because the retina of the eyes are sensitive to the chemical and heat rays (ultra violet rays). Eyetonic lenses correct this trouble as soon as they are placed before the eyes.

Our object in putting on this contest is to get some new ideas as to the best way in telling the people in our advertisements about this wonderful lens and we want you to help us out in this.

If your copy proves to be the best submitted we will make you a $10 pair of solid gold glasses free.

For the second best ad submitted we will give a season ticket to the 1913 Cotton Palace.

To all others submitting ads we will give a beautiful 1914 calendar.

Remember that your ad must not contain over 250 words. Address all communications to Dr. W. B. Georgia & Co., Optometrists and Lens Grinders, 324 Austin Street, Waco, Texas. Contest closes Oct. 30.

File Supplementary Brief in Thaw Case

Concord, N. H., Oct. 18.—In a supplementary brief on behalf of Harry K. Thaw, filed today by his counsel with Governor Peck, it is declared that Thaw has been detained under arrest nearly six weeks on a defective requisition petition, supported by the allegation of an indictment, which never existed and during all that time no indictment has been obtained.

The brief questions whether the requisition for Thaw's extradition is made in good faith and whether the state of New York demands Thaw's return for the purpose of trying him for conspiracy or for the purpose of reincarcerating him in the Matteawan hospital for the insane.

"If it is the latter purpose which actuated New York," the brief says, "it is illegitimate, and for the governor of New Hampshire to honor the requisition would be illegal."

The brief then gives what it declares to be the facts as to the attempt to indict Thaw. In conclusion, the brief says:

"It is open to the governor of New Hampshire to make due inquiry whether Thaw was indicted in New York; and when the facts are ascertained due weight should be given in considering the vital question of good faith of New York to the fact that up to the present time there never has been an indictment for conspiracy against Thaw in New York."

Auto Kills Boy.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 18.—An automobile occupied by Mrs. Franklin J. Burnham of Colorado and Mrs. Chas. J. Glidden, wife of the founder of the Glidden cup automobile tour, struck and fatally injured seven-year-old William Doyle in Cambridge park tonight. The boy was taken in the car and hurried to the relief hospital, but died there within a few minutes. The chauffeur, Charles J. Holmes, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and released on bail furnished by Mrs. Burnham.
